UNITED STATES CLAIMS RIGHT TO SEND SHIPS ANYWHERE

Washington, May 19.—China has been informed that the Washington government claims the right to dispatch warships not only to those Chinese ports declared by treaty to be open to the world, but also upon the inland waters of China "wherever Americans be and where by treaty with China they are authorized to engage in business or reside for the purpose of spreading the gospel."

Yoshino Sank After Collision with Kaisuga--Hatsuse Struck Russian Mine and Went to Bottom.

DISASTERS TO JAP NAVY OFF PORT ARTHUR HARBOR REPORTED BY ADMIRAL TOGO

Ninety Men Were Rescued from Yoshino and Three Hundred from Hatsuse — Remainder of Crews of Two Vessels Were Drowned.

TOKIO, May 20.—Six hundred and fifty Japanese sailors and marines went down with the battle ship Hatsuse and the cruiser Yoshino. The Hatsuse carried 741 men, of whom 300 were saved. The Yoshino carried 300 and only 90 were rescued.

ADMIRAL TOGO'S REPORT TOLD NEWS OF DISASTER

Tokio, May 19.—Vice Admiral Togo has reported as follows: A report from Rear Admiral Dowa says, that the cruisers Kaisuga and Yoshino collided during a fog off Port Arthur May 15. The Yoshino sank, only ninety of her crew being saved.

On the same day the battleship Hatsuse struck a Russian mine and sank. Giving details of the disasters Vice Admiral Togo says:

"At fourteen minutes past 1 o'clock in the afternoon May 15, in a deep fog off Port Arthur, the Kaisuga rammed the Yoshino, sinking the latter in a few minutes. Ninety of her crew were saved.

"The same morning the Hatsuse, while cruising off Port Arthur covering the landing of the soldiers, struck a mine 10 knots southeast of the harbor entrance. She signaled for help and instantly struck another mine. She sank in half an hour. Three hundred of her crew were saved by torpedo boats."

SINKING OF JAP SHIPS CAUSES JOY IN RUSSIA

St. Petersburg, May 20.—3 a. m.—The loss of at least two Japanese warships is officially confirmed. A message dated Port Arthur received by carrier pigeons at Mukden was transmitted to the emperor early yesterday morning, saying that two Japanese warships had been lost off that port. The message followed the emperor to Koursk and no one here knew its contents until late last night, when foreign telegrams brought full details of the Japanese loss.

Early in the afternoon reports of the sinking of the Shikishima and the Fuji on the authority of Russian refugees from Dalny, began to circulate and aroused the most intense interest. When later confirmation came of the sinking of two Japanese warships the greatest enthusiasm was manifested. Without reference to its effect on the campaign, the people attribute the enemy's disaster to divine interposition in the Russian cause.

In Russian circles the Japanese catastrophe is a matter for rejoicing, though regrets are expressed that brave men have lost their lives. But this feeling of sympathy is swallowed up in the greater thanksgiving for the blow inflicted on the sea power of the enemy. It is pointed out that the Hatsuse was one of Japan's finest battle ships, and that the loss of two, and possibly four, warships at intervals of a few days cannot fail to deeply affect Japan and to influence the course of the campaign.

The general staff tonight is without direct news of the sinking of the Shikishima and the Fuji, but there is an impression that it may be true. The reports, at any rate, have infused fresh life and enthusiasm in official circles, where it is believed that the tide has turned.

No surprise is expressed by the admiralty at the Japanese vessels striking Russian mines, the admiralty expecting such a mishap to Vice Admiral Togo, particularly since the naval commander at Port Arthur has faithfully duplicated his plan which resulted in the sinking of the Ptropavlovsk. Wherever off Port Arthur the Japanese squadron appeared during the day, that same night Russian torpedo boats stole out and carefully planted contact mines, which, floating below the surface, would not be touched by the destroyers, but the ships of the heavier draught cruising in the mine fields would be sure to strike them. The favorite point selected by the Japanese for bombardments of Port Arthur is Liao-Ti-Shan promontory, and the water has been thickly sown with Russian mines. Other points besides Liao-Ti-Shan have also been mined, and it has been dangerous for the Japanese ships to cruise in those waters.

BATTLE SHIP SHIKISHIMA ALSO REPORTED DESTROYED

London, May 20.—Special dispatches from Shanghai to the London morning papers report that the Shikishima was sunk, while the Fuji and Asama had to be towed away badly damaged.

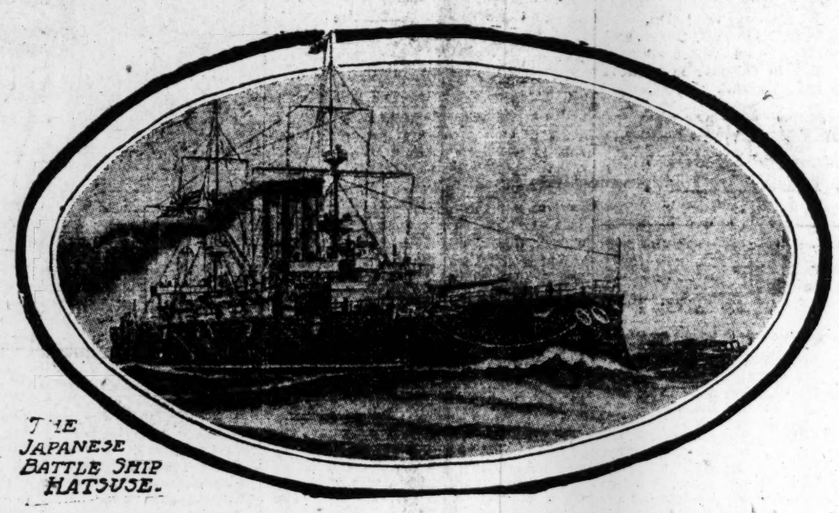

Presumably, the Russians wrongly identified the vessels, the Shikishima and the Hatsuse being practically sister ships.

RUSSIAN CRUISER GROUNDED OFF VLADIVOSTOK HARBOR

Paris, May 20.—The correspondent at St. Petersburg of The Echo de Paris says:

"The Russian cruiser Bogatyr grounded during a fog on the rocks near the entrance to Vladivostok. Her position is critical. The crew was saved."

JAPANESE BATTLE SHIP SUNK BY MINE.

THE JAPANESE BATTLE SHIP HATSUSE.

DESCRIPTION OF DESTROYED SHIPS

THE Yoshino was a cruiser of 4,180 tons displacement and 15,000 indicated horse power. She was built in England, was launched in 1892, was 350 feet long, had 46½ feet of beam, and her draught was 17 feet. The armament of the Yoshino consisted of four 6-inch guns, eight 4.7-inch guns and twenty-three 3-pounders. The cruiser's speed was estimated to be 23 knots, her coal capacity was 1,000 tons, and her crew numbered 300. The cruiser with which the Yoshino collided, the armored cruiser Kaisuga, formerly the Morino, was purchased from Argentina in Italy and was taken by British officer, with the Nisshin, bought by Japan from Argentina and formerly the Rivadivia, to Japan just previous to the outbreak of the war. The Hatsuse was a battle ship of 15,000 tons displacement of the latest model. She was only completed in 1900, was built in England, was 400 feet long, had 76½ feet of beam, drew 27 feet of water, had 16,300 indicated horse power and was fitted with water tube boilers. She was completely armored with steel. Her armament consisted of four 12-inch guns, fourteen 6-inch guns, twenty 12-pounders, eight 3-pounders, and four 2½ pounders. She has four torpedo tubes. Her estimated speed was 19.11 knots. Her crew numbered 741 men.

JAP YALU ARMY GIVEN HARD BLOW

Driven Back to Feng-Wang-Cheng.

Reported at Niuchwang That Kuropatkin's Army Has Suffered Reverse—Report Said To Come from Source Thoroughly Reliable.

Niuchwang, May 19.—Evening.—It is reported here from a reliable source that the Japanese army from the Yalu river has received a heavy blow and been driven back to Feng-Wang-Cheng.

RUSSIANS NOW ON MARCH TO RELIEVE PORT ARTHUR

London, May 20.—A. G. Hales, the correspondent of The Daily News, cables from Tientsin as follows under date of May 19:

"It is reported that 70,000 Russians are marching to the relief of Port Arthur and the Japanese are consequently hastening offensive operations.

"Forty-five thousand troops have already been landed at Kin-Chau and Talienwan, thus entirely investing Port Arthur.

"The Japanese advanced lines are 7 miles from the Russian batteries.

"Skirmishes occur daily along the railroad.

"It is believed that the Japanese intend attacking Port Arthur with the entire force when it numbers fifty thousand men. They are mounting 6-inch naval guns on steel wheels, with the object of silencing the Russian batteries.

"The Manchurian railway south of Harbin is constantly broken by Chinese marauders, and the Russians threaten reprisals.

"The Russians admit that they have to contend with terrible difficulties along the whole line. Their men, however, are behaving splendidly and they are very confident."

TWO THOUSAND RUSSIANS REPORTED KILLED IN FIGHT

London, May 20.—The Standard's correspondent at Tientsin cables that, while the Japanese fleet was covering the landing of troops near Kai-Chau on Monday, a fierce engagement occurred at Hsin-Yin-Cheng. Two thousand Russians were killed or wounded. The Russians retreated and the Japanese occupied both Kai-Ping and Kai-Chau.

The Chinese governor at Chen-Chow has received news, the correspondent adds, that the Russians have destroyed the railway between Taschichiao and Niuchwang.

ALL RUSSIAN TREATIES ANNULLED BY KOREA

Seoul, May 19.—The Korean government has annulled the Russian Yalu and Tumen rivers timber concessions granted in 1986. The Russian companies interested were backed by M. Bezobrazoff, the friend of Viceroy Alexieff, and reputed moving spirit of the Russian war party, and many Russian noblemen. There have been frequent differences between the Russian semi-official concerns and the private Japanese lumbermen, which Korea, in severing diplomatic relations with St. Petersburg, has not felt bound to respect Russian commercial contracts.

It was announced May 6 from Tokio that Korea had recalled her minister at St. Petersburg.

PORT ARTHUR CHANNEL OPEN DECLARE RUSSIAN OFFICER

St. Petersburg, May 19.—The admiralty claims that the channel at Port Arthur was never blocked by the Japanese fire ships, and that there is a free passage even for the heavy Russian ships.

I. C. PLANT'S SON BANK SHORTAGE IS $844,051.08

Receiver Corbin Makes Preliminary Report of Institution's Condition.

EXPLAINS DIFFICULTY IN GETTING FIGURES

Says Total Liabilities Are $2,243,228.72—Total Assets $1,399,177.64—Showing Apparent Excess of $844,051.08 of Liabilities Over Assets.

By E. C. Bruffey.

Constitution Bureau, 467 Second Street, Macon, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—N. B. Corbin, receiver for the I. C. Plant's Son bank, acting under direction of Judge Speer, completed at midnight a preliminary report.

Receiver Corbin states that Mr. Plant has been confined to his residence for some weeks by illness and on account of his condition it has been impracticable to obtain from him directly the details of the large business which he has been conducting for several years. On this account, Receiver Corbin reports that he has been compelled so far to rely upon such information as can be obtained from the books of I. C. Plant's Son and from such records as are kept by his cashier and secretary.

He also states that a large part of the business conducted by Mr. Plant was transacted in his private office, of which there are no records upon the books of I. C. Plant's Son and the data of which is kept in an informal way by Mr. Plant's secretary and will require a detailed examination in connection with the books of the bank before any clear conception can be had of the apparent excess of $844,051.08 of the liabilities over nominal assets.

The report of Receiver Corbin shows total liabilities of $2,243,228.72. Total assets foot up $1,399,177.64.

Some of the Depositors.

A great list, its length might be yards long, could be made of people who put their money in the I. C. Plant's Sons' bank, because of the faith they had in that name.

Hon. T. J. Carling, one of the safest and most cautious business men of the city, had $23,000 there; Miss Essie McMillan, bookkeeper at The Macon Telegraph, had there $5,000; the savings of a lifetime; Mrs. Dr. Gibson, of Vineville, had there several thousand dollars, the money which came from a life insurance policy; Mrs. E. L. Gernsey had $13,000; Mrs. S. B. Price had $10,000; Dr. Marshall, of Reynolds, had $56,000 there; Eartow Stubbs is out over $30,000; Sidney Stubbs is out about $50,000; H. N. Holloway, an engineer of the Central railroad, lost the savings of years; H. N. Holloway, one of the oldest engineers on the Central railroad, let go the savings of a lifetime; an Italian fruit stand woman, Mrs. Roco Sylvester, is now lamenting the dimes and nickels she has been hoarding for years.

An old switchman on one of the roads here has been saving $8 to $10 a month for years, until he had a fraction over $700 in the bank. Today he is courting sleep, something he has not known since Monday, when he was advised of the failure.

One member of the police force, an officer, had accumulated something like $6,000; today he is unable to pay his current bills from what he had been accumulating. It was that member of the police force who was heard to say that he would willingly load his gun for the man who had taken his savings if that would give back to others what they had lost.

The list could be enlarged until the end would be far away from the start and the figures at the bottom would be greatly in excess of the first line. It might be thought by people away from Macon that there was little or no feeling among the people here.

But that impression, wherever, it obtains would be erroneous. Here the feeling it bitter, it is intense. It has been growing more and more intense since the sinking of the sun of the first day.

Mass Meeting Today.

At the start ugly expressions were the extent of the talk, but, of course, this was idle, and to it no one gave heed, but as time went by the feeling adverse to President Plant and the other bank people began crystalling and this morning a half dozen of the leading citizens of Macon, each a man of standing and character, signed a call for a mass meeting to be held at 10 o'clock Friday morning. As that meeting is sure to be largely attended, something in the nature of the smouldering storm which has been gathering since Monday will show itself in a pronounced and emphatic manner. One of the moving spirits in the convention, Hon. T. J. Carling, went to the bank only a few days before it closed doors and stated to the cashier that he had been informed that the bank was shaky.

The cashier denied most emphatically the story, and upon that denial Mr. Carling not only deposited something like $4,000, but it was upon the showing of his bank book to a lady who was seeking a bank in which to place some money that she handed in her all and now finds herself penniless.

On the sidewalk great crowds have been gathering all during this evening and it is the failure only that is being discussed.

Rumors Current on Street.

All kinds of rumors have been current today, and in the absence of anything like reliable information those comments are being used for all there is in them.

Early in the day it was stated that President R. H. Plant had left the city; that he had gone away to avoid coming in contact with those who were once his patrons. It was even asserted and at one time there was the sound of truth in the statement, that President Plant had gone to Europe. It required a few minutes in the afternoon to dispel that declaration. President Plant was at home. He was not able to leave his bed even for the telephone. But he was there. Of that there was not the slightest doubt.

Another rumor had it that a warrant was to be taken out for President Plant, but a diligent inquiry failed to locate the man who contemplated that warrant. President Plant's business and business methods were aired fully and freely. His connection with the New York Life Insurance Company was the keynote of all comment. It was to the line this failure, by general conversation, was traced. Talk had it that the insurance company had forced President Plant to the wall by demanding payments of sums of money he owed the company and could not pay. The money was demanded, so the remarks indicated, not because the company needed the money, but because the company wanted the Plant renewals, which they had been unable to buy and by forcing a collection they could ac-

ILLINOIS AND WISCONSIN SHOW REPUBLICANS SPLIT

Yates Holds Delegates in Fast Deadlock at Springfield.

Springfield, Ills., May 19.—For the first time since the beginning of the deadlock in the Illinois republican convention, the delegates today began to show signs of breaking away, and there was evidenced a disposition to leave the leaders.

Many of the delegates left town this morning, and some of them declared they would not come back until some of the gubernatorial candidates got out of the race and made it possible to break the deadlock. Their votes were cast by the more faithful of the delegates, in some instances a single delegate voting an entire county.

The feeling of unrest found vent in the introduction of a resolution providing that the convention proceed to the nomination of candidates for office other than that of governor, but the proposition was defeated.

The ballots were taken today without appreciable change in the result.

After the fifty-sixth ballot, one of the delegates arose and suggested that the calling of the roll be dispensed with, and that the secretary be instructed to record the result. (Laughter.)

The result of the fifty-seventh ballot (official) was:

Yates 482, Lowden 393½, Deneen 388½, Warner 54, Hamlin 109, Sherman 43, Pierce 31.

At 9:45 o'clock the convention took a recess until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Wyoming Republican Ticket.

Laramie, Wyo., May 19.—The republican state convention today made the following nominations:

Governor, B. B. Brooks; congressman, F. W. Mondell; state treasurer, W. C. Irvin; judge of supreme court, Cyrus Baerd.

Senators Warren and Clark, Congressman Mondell, N. K. Boswell, J. E. Cosgriff and J. G. Oliver were chosen delegates to the national convention.

Two Tickets Named By Rival Conventions At Madison.

Madison, Wis., May 19.—Two conventions, both claiming legal status by right of delegate majority holding prima facie credentials and both asserting themselves to be regularly republican, were concluded in Madison tonight.

Two state tickets, the one headed by Governor Robert M. LaFolette, candidate for a third term, and the other headed by Former Congressman Samuel A. Cook, were nominated.

The ticket named by the LaFolette convention included all the present state officers and the platform only differs from the other in the intensity of its declaration in favor of so-called LaFolette reforms. Governor LaFolette considers himself the choice of the regular republican party. His delegates, according to the state central committee's count, numbered 585½.

The other convention was indorsed by Senator John C. Spooner and Senator Joseph V. Quarles and its state ticket, it is declared was legally nominated by 567 delegates, holding prima facie credentials. Senator Spooner voiced the sense of the convention when he said:

"These delegates sitting here will not have to stand merely upon the declaration of this committee on credentials. Their right to seats here will be tested and proved."

This means that the courts will be called upon to settle this dispute.

The anti-third termers, to preserve the standing of Wisconsin in national republican ranks, chose electors identical with those picked by the LaFolette men.

California Convention Adjourns.

Sacramento, Cal., May 19.—The state republican convention on reassembling today adopted the platform as reported last night, and after naming the district delegates adjourned.

CONSUMPTION AT HOME RAISES COTTON PRICE

Department of Agriculture To Issue Interesting Report on Use of Staple in Cotton Growing States.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The department of agriculture will shortly issue a comprehensive report on the consumption of cotton in the cotton states, compiled by J. L. Watkins, the cotton expert of the bureau of statistics.

It traces cotton manufacture in this country from its inception to the present time and reviewing the industry in the past twenty years says that notwithstanding the great increase in the world's consumption of cotton, the overshadowing feature of the period is the phenomenal increase in consumption in the cotton states.

This consumption in the south increased 1,607,000 bales, or 89 per cent, the consumption in the north has increased 762,000 bales, or 59 per cent, and in the whole country 2,369,000 bales, or nearly 148 per cent. This, the report says, is of immense significance to the countries consuming American cotton because every additional 10,000 consumed in this country means shorter time for some foreign mills, perhaps its shutting down, assuming, of course, that no further expansion of the American crop will take place.

During the past twenty years the United States has increased its cotton crop nearly 5,500,000 bales, or about 96 per cent; India's crop has increased 1,500,000 bales of 400 pounds each, of 73 per cent; Egypt's crop has increased 570,000 bales of 500 pounds each, or 79 per cent; Russia, which used to draw so largely upon this country for her raw cotton, is now supplying her own mills with 200,000 or 300,000 bales grown in her trans-Caspian provinces; Brazil has almost ceased exporting cotton on account of home demand for her crop, and the continent of Europe has increased its consumption of cotton 2,492,000 bales, or about 95 per cent.

The consumption of cotton in East India, the report points out has increased 1,200,000 bales, or about 200 per cent in the last twenty years and her mills now use about half of the crop produced there; Japan has erected mills equipped with 1,333,000 spindles and is consuming from 600,000 to 700,000 bales of cotton annually, nearly 25 per cent of which is American; the world's consumption of cotton has increased nearly 7,000,000 bales, or about 94 per cent, and the United States, the largest producer, also has become the largest consumer of cotton.

Hence the price of its staple is now regulated in the home market instead of Liverpool. Every year since 1890 there has been an increase in the number of mills and spindles in operation and with the single exception of 1893-94 an increase in the number of bales consumed.

PENCIL GIRL SWALLOWED TAKEN FROM RIGHT HAND

NEW YORK, May 19.—A piece of slate pencil 2½ inches long and sharpened to a needle-like point, has been removed from the right hand of Rosalie Layko, a 9-year-old Brooklyn school girl. The pencil had been working its way about the child's body since January last, when she swallowed it while at play. Efforts to remove it from her stomach then proved of no avail and for several weeks she has complained of pains in the side and shoulder. Finally the object moved down through her arm and caused the hand to swell. The doctors were greatly astonished upon applying the lance and encountering the hard piece of slate. They say there is no record of so large a substance passing through the human body in a similar manner.

HEAVY FIGHTING EXPECTED IN VICINITY OF LIAO-YANG

Mukden, May 19.—Little is known here of the precise nature of the operations east or south of Liao-Yang, but early and important events are anticipated in the immediate region of Liao-Yang. The isolated Russian forces north of Port Arthur are withdrawing on Port Arthur and it is reported that the Japanese are withdrawing from the vicinity of Kai-Chou and are advancing to the passes east of Hai-Cheng and Liao-Yang.

KOREANS GIVE SECRET AID TO ENEMIES OF JAPANESE

Paris, May 19.—An official dispatch from Seoul says:

Korean feeling against the Japanese is assuming serious proportions. Lack of organization prevents the Koreans from adopting effective measures, but they are secretly embarrassing the Japanese by lending assistance to the Cossack detachments operating in northeast Korea, down to Gensan. These bands, with the cooperation of Koreans, it is added, have cut the telegraph line from Chemulpo to Ping-Yang.

AUGUSTA TO MACON AUTOS WILL RACE

Rivalry Between Different Automobile Companies.

Disputes Will Be Settled by a Run of Ten Machines from Augusta to Macon on Next Saturday Morning.

Augusta, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—The automobile owners of this city will have an endurance race for their machines from Augusta to Macon and return. There is an intense rivalry between the owners of the different makes of autos in Augusta and so heated have all the arguments been in the sessions of the automobile club that it has been decided that the only way to create and perpetuate harmony would be to have the matter settled by a test. It was decided hat this test should be one of endurance and not of sprinting. As a result many men who own and operate runabouts have not entered on the Augusta and Macon race, but will try to have shorter contests for speed as soon as the big fellows settle their dispute.

The endurance race will start at 9 o'clock next Saturday morning, when five of the most powerful machines owned in the city will leave the confederate monument on Broad street for the city hall in the Central City. It is expected that the run to Macon will be completed by 3 o'clock in the same afternoon. The road has been inspected and marked off, so that none of the runners will miss their way, and the route taken is said to be in fairly good condition. It is far from an asphalt surface, but is free from any of the terribly bad places that are sometimes found in the country. It is considered a fair trial on hill climbing, smooth running, hard pulling and all the other tests that are necessary in deciding such a race as this is planned to be. The owners and machines to start are as follows:

Thad and Geddings Howe will use a Rambler. Clark Jack will use a French machine, the Richards; Lewis Evans will use a Ford; William T. Fields will use a Cadillas; Morley and W. H. Harrison will use a White Star. The last machine is a steamer and the others are all gasoline automobiles.

Each machine must carry a passenger in every seat and must be operated exclusively by its owner. The rules of the Automobile Club of America governing such contests will be used.

Nearly all the machine owners in the city will accompany the racers the first 15 miles out and will meet them on the return trip Sunday afternoon. Returning the racers will leave Macon at 9 o'clock Sunday morning and are scheduled to reach Augusta about 4 in the afternoon.

BURNING OF A LARGE PLANT.

Planing and Saw Mills of Buffalo Pine Company Destroyed.

Valdosta, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—The large saw and planing mills of the Buffalo Yellow Pine Company, at Haylow, Ga., were burned on Tuesday morning, together with about 100,000 feet of lumber. The fire started in the shingle mill, presumably from the friction of a belt, and destroyed everything on the extensive yards except the dry kiln. The loss is not known, but is partially covered by insurance.

Banker Candidates Withdraw.

New York, May 19.—James T. Woodward, Harry Payne Whitney and Isador Strauss, democratic candidates for the electoral college, have sent their resignations to the state chairman. All are national bank directors and Mr. Woodward is president of the Hanover national of this city. Their withdrawal from the ticket is the result of a report by a special committee which recommended such a course in view of doubt as to their eligibility under the constitution.

Wilson Talks Good Roads.

World's Fair Grounds, St. Louis, May 19.—The National and International Good Roads' Association convention was held today in the Missouri state building in the exposition grounds to which it adjourned yesterday from Central Music hall, in St. Louis. The forenoon session was devoted to numerous addresses. The Rev. R. A. Holland, of St. Louis, offered the invocation, after which secretary of agriculture William Wilson was introduced.

MOROCCO BANDIT HOLDS AMERICAN

Taken from Summer Home Near Tangiers.

Perdicaris Held by Outlaws, Who Demand Ransom—Yankee Warship May Be Sent Unless Moroccan Sultan Secures His Release.

Tangier, Morocco, May 19.—An American citizen named Perdicaris and his step son, a British subject, were carried off by the well known bandit Raisult and his followers last night, and will doubtless be held for a heavy ransom.

The captives were staying at Perdicaris' summer residence, only 3 miles from Tangier, when the bandits attacked and captured them.

Foreigners are much excited by this bold raid so near Tangier and attribute it to the supineness of the government in failing to punish the bandits who last year captured Walter B. Harris, the correspondent, in Morocco, of The London Times, and their failure to deal with general lawlessness.

Fraissouli has notified the French representatives at Tangier that he requires the removal of the troops from the district and the removal of the governor of Tangier, and the release of a number of imprisoned bandits. When these conditions are compiled with Fraissouli will notify Mohammed El Torres of the course he proposes to pursue.

Perdicaris had resided at Tangier, where he was president of a commission for a number of years. The bandit leader handed to a domestic a letter from Mohammed El Torres notifying that functionary of his terms.

This letter was transmitted to Mohammed El Torres after midnight. It is understood the Moroccan authorities will accede to all the demands of the brigand chief in order to secure the release of the prisoners.

United States To Send Ship.

Washington, May 19.—The state department has received the following cablegram from United States Consul Gummere, dated Tangier, today:

"Mr. Peridicaris, a prominent American citizen, long a resident of Tangier, and rich and well known, and his stepson, Mr. Varley, a British subject, were carried off last night from their country house 3 miles from Tangier by a large band of native brigands, headed by Raissuly, the bandit who carried off Mr. Harris last year. The Perdicaris house was broken into half past 8 o'clock in the evening, while the family were in the drawing room, and the two men carried away."

Mr. Cummere and the British minister are acting with energy in the matter. They have sent a special carrier to the court to inform the sultan's deputy to comply with all requests they make in this matter, and to insist that the terms demanded by Raissuly shall be met in order to obtain the release of the captives.

Except for the difference of sex, the incident reported by Mr. Gummere compares in some respect with the case of Miss Ellen Stone, who was kidnaped by Bulgarian bandits some time ago. The demand made upon the sultan by Mr. Gummere that he pay the ransom demanded in this last case is said to be in accordance with Oriental customs. Payment is necessary probably to save the lives of the captives, and it is not doubted that the sultan will find some means afterwards to capture the brigands and recover the sum paid over.

Acting Secretary Loomis was in consultation today with Chairman Winslow, of the navigation bureau, respecting the dispatch of a United States warship to Tangier to back up the consul's demand. There are a number of British warships within a few hours' sailing, and it is understood that as Mr. Gummere is cooperating with the British consul there will be no hesitancy on the part of the British government in hurrying a British warship to the scene.

Although a large fleet of American warships is en route to European waters, there is not a single United States war vessel there now.

THE REVIVAL SERVICES AT THE First Christian church continue with unabated interest. Rev. Dr. Cocke delivered an able sermon last night on "Christ's Invitation to the Weary and Heavy Laden." There were quite a number of accessions to the church, and at the close of the service several were baptized after the apostolic manner, by a burial in water. Dr. Cocke will speak again tonight and at the close of the service G. W. Mullins will be ordained to the work of the Christian ministry. Pastor Moore will be assisted in this by Rev. W. A. Chastain, and Rev. W. J. Cocke.

THE LOVE FOR WHISKY CAUSED Surry Pritchard, a negro driver for the Southern Express Company, to be an inmate of the police barracks on a charge of suspicion. He was arrested yesterday afternoon by Mounted Officer Gloer, on complaint of the local agent for the Southern Express Company, who claims that Pritchard stole a jug of whisky from a truck belonging to the company waile at the union depot Wednesday night. When arrested Pritchard had a bottle of whisky in his possession. He will be tried before Judge Broyles this morning.

WHILE T. S. M'KINNEY, OF WHITEhall and Fair streets, was in the police court yesterday afternoon answering to the charge of allowing his horse to eat grass from the lawn of Mrs. Sarah Rucker, 15 East Fair street, the horse managed to escape from his stable again and was nibbling grass on the same spot while his owner was being tried. Mrs. Rucker caught the animal and held him until the arrival of Call Officer Jones, who turned him over to the owner. The case against M'Kinney was dismissed with instructions to keep the animal stabled in future. This the defendant promised to do, being totally ignorant at the time of the fact that the same horse was in the same place nibbling the same grass.

ALLEGING THAT GOODS TO THE value of $200 were lost en route from Birmingham, Ala., to Chattanooga, Tenn., Mrs. Lena Stroud, the owner, yesterday filed a suit in attacnment against the Southern railroad. The writ was levied on a number of freight cars in the railroad yards in Atlanta. Mrs. Stroud is represented by Attorney Madison Bell.

RUNNING AROUND ON DECATUR street as though wild, her clothes dishevled and crying out that she had no home to go to, a white woman, about 45 years old, who refused to give her name, attracted the attention of Sanitary Inspector Wasser last night. The inspector questioned the woman closely, but could not obtain a definite statement from her. She was sent to police barracks and given into the care of Matron Bohnefeld. The woman, although she refused to give her name, was identified by marks on her clothing as Lulu Rogers. She said she escaped from the sanitarium at Milledgeville a few days ago. When asked how she got away the woman replied that God opened the door and bade her walk out.

WHILE CROSSING THE GEORGIA railroad tracks at Delta place, Inman park, at 6 o clock last night, with a load of lumber upon his head, Love Echols, a negro, of 47 Thompson's alley, fell into a ditch and was severely bruised about the body. A Grady hospital ambulance removed him to his home, where the necessary medical attention was given him.

FIRE AT 9:30 O'CLOCK LAST NIGHT damaged the residence of Tom Pitts, 86 Oak street, West End, to the extent of several hundred dollars. The flames originated in a lot of rubbish in the basement and were kept confined to that portion of the house. The alarm was sent in from box 337.

THE PICNIC OF THE CUMBERland Presbyterian church, which was to have been given at Iceville, has been changed to Grant park. The outing will occur Saturday, May 21, and will doubtless prove an enjoyable one.

RECEIVERS FOR RED CYPRESS

Judge Speer Names Men To Take Charge of Company.

Macon, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—On the petition of the Southern Bank of Georgia, of Savannah, J. K. Pray, of Albany, and the J. W. Burke Company, of Macon, Judge Speer this morning appointed E. A. It is said that the company is also largely indebted to I. C. Plant's Son bank and the First national bank, which closed their doors Monday. R. H. Plant is interested in the Red Cypress Company.

FAKE PICTURE OF PRESIDENT

Will Show Roosevelt Lifting Hat to Negro.

Moving Picture Machine Was Stationed Before Capitol—Negro Fell Down and Man Made Up Like the President Did the Best.

Washington, May 19.—The Washington police are investigating an incident which occurred on the plaza of the capitol today, in which an attempt was made before a moving picture machine to impersonate President Roosevelt giving assistance to a pretended negro in distress.

The incident occurred shortly before 8 o'clock this morning. A moving picture machine had been placed where it could command the scene and a man made up as a negro approached, and when directly in front of the statue of George Washington, he fell to the pavement.

A man who bore a striking resemblance to the president was in a carriage near by, and he, with the aid of a negro coachman who wore a livery the counterpart of the white house livery, tenderly lifted the pretended negro to the fictitious presidential carriage. The man simulating the president then tipped his hat, offered the negro a cigar and ordered the carriage to drive on. The incident was witnessed by a number of people, including two capitol policemen.

Special Officer Jones, of the capitol police, who witnessed the occurrence, said he was standing on the east entrance of the senate wing of the capitol when he saw a man with a large photographic outfit set up his machine beside the Washington statue. Two carriages were near, said Jones.

"A man got out of an open carriage and laid down on the asphalt and directly in front of the camera. He was a big fat negro, and wore minstrel shoes and a regular minstrel outfit.

Another carriage drove up, and from it alighted a man very like President Roosevelt. The latter helped the prostrate negro to his carriage, offered him a cigar and tipped his hat to the negro. Then the carriage was driven off."

"Resolved, That this executive committee from the twenty-third senatorial district, heartily commend to the state senate and the people of Georgia the candidacy of Hon. Walter E. Steed for president of the next senate, believing that his long and faithful service as a lawmaker, as well as his native ability, causes him to be eminently qualified to fill this distinguished office with credit and honor to himself, as well as the state at large."

Resolutions indorsing the candidacy of Judge A. C. Riley as a delegate to the national convention in St. Louis were unanimously passed.

LIFE OF JAPANESE WOMEN.

THE Japanese women do not have the freedom of our American women before marriage, but in some respects they have an advantage over our women—for they usually enjoy perfect health. They follow from infancy the rules of the Jiu Jitzu, which teaches them to eat properly, breathe properly, and exercise rationally, then too they live in the out-door air—sleep in paper houses, which, in fact, is almost like living outdoors—take frequent baths and live like children in the sense that they throw out of their lives the cares and worries which make our women old before their time. Living simple lives—close to nature—on very plain food—without the social trammels—the confining dress—corsets and the many health destroying practices of our more modern civilization, as a consequence they grow up without those distressing ailments which are so pravalent among our woman-kind. It was not meant that our American women should suffer as they do—from month to month—with pains and drains which make their life miserable, but owing to our modern modes of living such conditions are more the rule than the exception. The woman is on the road to health who appreciates her bodily needs—and is willing to follow others who have been through the mill of experience. Take a case in point—that of Mrs. Martin:

"I write you to let you know I received your kind and ever welcome letter and your kind and fatherly advice," writes Mrs. Ida Martin, of Berry, Ky. "I commenced your treatment the next day after receiving your letter, some months ago, and followed your advice as closely as I could. Am glad to say I am in better health than have been for years. Believe I suffered from every disease that any over-worked, run-down woman could. Was not able to do anything, could not get one good night's sleep; had heart disease of the worst type. A disordered liver was one great trouble, and, passing through change of life, it seemed to cause me excruciating pain in breast and shoulders. I had no appetite, could not sweep nor do any housework. I took treatment from three of the best doctors in our town but grew worse every day, so I decided to write to Dr. Pierce for advice. I took the medicines just as you advised and continued until I had taken six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription.' I know that your medicines did more for me than all the medical treatment I had ever taken."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription balances the circulation, relieves pelvic congestion, stops wasting and weakening drains and gives new tone and vitality to the weakened organs. Nearly every tonic and remedy for women on the market to-day contains alcohol, which gives a temporary stimulation, very grateful to the worn out patient, but when the inevitable reaction comes on the disease is worse than ever. Dr. Pierce early recognized that alcohol was a poison and should not be used in treating sick women. There is not a particle of alcohol or any narcotic in Doctor Pierce's medicine. They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this word-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MEN REFUSE TO RECEIVE PAY

Blocton Operators and Miners Have Not Reached Agreement.

Birmingham, Ala., May 19.—(Special.)—The crisis has been reached at Blocton mines because the superintendent, Mr. Lang, will not be removed from the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company's employment.

All efforts at a compromise has failed and Mr. Bacon, the president of the company, has posted a notice practically discharging all men who refuse to go to work under Superintendent Lang, and notified them to call at the office and get their pay. To this the men have not agreed, but they say they will wait until the regular pay day. Both sides are firm and will not yield any of their demands. It is said that union men will be employed if they desire to work, but if they will not then such labor as can be obtained will be used.

That trouble is looked for is evidenced by the fact that preparations are being made to meet any possible contingency. The corporation has sent additional guns and ammunition to Blocton and special deputies have been sworn in for immediate service by the sheriff of Bibb county.

A call has also been made on the sheriff of Jefferson county for more deputies, but they cannot be furnished from here, unless the appeal is made more urgent. It is believed that a test case will be made of this disagreement. The trouble here is likely to spread to other mines where the union is strong, although no formal strike has been ordered. The notice to vacate the premises by the company and ordering the men to call for their pay and the refusal of the men to accede to the proposition until pay day, leads to the conclusion that they will hold the houses and places to keep others out.

FRENCH ENVOY TO BE RECALLED

Diplomatic Relations with Vatican Will Be Broken Off Entirely.

Paris, May 19.—The council of ministers assembled in extraordinary session today to consider the action to be taken relative to the pope's protest against President Loubet's visit to Rome. As the version of the protest forwarded to the governments having relations with the vatican differs from that forwarded to the French government, it was decided to first ascertain definitely what representations the vatican made to the foreign governed. An official communication to the press says the ministers are in accord upon the steps, but does not give the nature of the expected action. Later it became known that the recall of M. Nisard, the ambassador of France to the vatican, had been decided upon if the authenticity of the protest forwarded to the foreign powers was established. This practically assures the ambassador's recall, as little or no doubt exists relative to the protest.

The effect of the ambassador's recall will be to interrupt diplomatic relations between France and the vatican.

Fahey, of Rome, Ga., a student in the classical course. Fahey acquitted himself with great credit and the honor is no small one, considering the large student body at Notre Dame.

What to Do for Blood Poison

There is no disease that can afflict a man that will give him more cause for immediate alarm—and very rightly, too—than contracted blood poison. It may, in fact, be contracted by a kiss, the use of a towel, cup or soap used previously by one who has the disease. There is no mistaking the symptoms for after the first sore has appeared, in about two or three weeks the glands in the throat and groin begin to swell, a rash appears on the body, the hair and eyebrows fall out, mucous patches appear here and there, copper colored spots are seen in the mouth, you become tired and languid, fretful and nervous. You have a well-developed case of specific blood poison. Don't at this point become frightened; don't go to the first doctor whose sign you see, and don't let friends persuade you to do this and that, or to go out of the city to the springs. It would entail an unnecessary expense on you and do no good that you cannot obtain right here. But you should have competent medical treatment at once, that is certain.

Recognized as the Oldest Established and Most Reliable Specialist.

Cures by New Method.

Dr. Hathaway, who has been curing men for over 20 years, has never approved of the use of mercury or potash in the cure of blood poison. All other physicians use it, whatever they may say to the contrary, but Dr. Hathaway has found a way out of the difficulty. The use of mercury causes the teeth to loosen and often to fall out, and potash destroys the stomach. By Dr. Hathaway's NEW SYSTEM of treatment, and which hundreds of cured patients can prove, has no such disadvantages, is mild but thoroughly effective and cures without you scarcely knowing that you are under treatment. You experience no inconvenience whatever, you are not kept a day from your work, the sores are controlled so that they do not appear on your face, are quickly removed from the body, and by no indication would your closest friend know that you have the disease. Furthermore, once cured by Dr. Hathaway's method and you can never again contract the disease no matter how you expose yourself to danger.

Call for Free Examination.

If you now have such a disease and are finding difficulty getting it cured, or if you are in doubt whether you have it or not, call on Dr. Hathaway and let him make an examination, for which there is no charge. Not all doctors can tell specific blood poison when they see it, but you can rely upon Dr. Hathaway's judgment as he has been curing the disease for 20 years. You can save yourself a world of worry and outlay of money by going to him at once, as his skill is unquestioned and his charges the most reasonable of any. He is always glad to make arrangements to suit you.

If you live too far away to call, or for any reason cannot call, send to the doctor for his complete booklet on blood poison which tells all about it from a specialist's standpoint. Every man should have this book and as it is free be sure to send for it. However, if you can possibly call do so. J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M.D., 33 Inman Bldg., 22½ S. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga. WHO IS THE JUDGE, CRUBB OR PRUETT

Puzzle for Barbour County, Ala., Democrats To Solve.

The Two Men Have Been Nominated for Probate Judge, and Both Claim That They Are the Nominees of the Party.

Montgomery, Ala., May 19.—(Special.)—The Barbour county democratic committee has a puzzle on its hands that would make the famous Chinese mystery look like an advertisement on a bill board. The two men have been nominated for probate judge and which is what is responsible for the hair tearing in that section of the democratic family. The whole thing bids fair, too, to come before the state committee and may go even further than that before it is finally settled. The question is which man is nominated for probate judge, Thomas G. Grubbs, named by the executive committee, or W. H. Pruett, who received 150 votes in a primary, at which, it was generally understood, no candidate for that position was to be voted for.

The story of the mix up is about this: At the regular democratic primaries, held in April, there were three candidates for the nomination for probate judge—W. H. Pruett, Thomas G. Grubbs and Guy W. Winn. Pruett and Grubbs received the highest votes cast, but neither a majority, so they were set apart to run a second race. In the first contest, Grubbs lacked only 41 votes of getting a majority.

Arrangements were made for the second race, but about ten days ago Mr. Pruett sent out a letter to the voters, it is averred, saying that because of ill health he had decided to retire from the race. Acting on this, and a letter received from Mr. Pruett by the secretary of the democratic committee, the committee was called together and Grubbs declared the nominee. This was accepted as final by the friends of Mr. Grubbs and by that gentleman himself.

The primary had to be held, however, to nominate other candidates, among them a clerk of the circuit court, and the voting went on last Saturday, the day set. Imagine the surprise of the Grubbs men when the votes were counted Saturday night to find that there were in the Eufaula box 71 ballots for Pruett and one for Grubbs, with 150 in all in the county for the man who was supposed to have been out of the race long before.

Now, the story goes, Pruett claims he is nominated, and the action of the committee is not valid. Grubbs' followers aver that the action of the committee, in declaring him the nominee, is final and his selection the only one that is legitimate.

It is the talk of the day not only in Eufaula, but among party men in many sections of the state. What the committee will do is yet a mystery, though the impression is pretty well established that Grubbs will be declared the winner, indorsing its own former action.

TO HOLD WEEKLY SESSIONS.

Announcement of PPardoning Board of Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., May 19.—(Special.)—The state pardoning board has decided to hold weekly meetings, at 10 o'clock every Friday morning. This is final and the date is announced in order that all lawyers and others who have business with the board may know just when to come to the capitol.

Falkner was also at the meeting. The governor says that the school is in the best of condition and one of the most satisfactory of the state's institutions. Dr Francis M. Peterson was reelected president for a term of three years.

NEGRO LYNCHED BY OWN RACE

Tramp Who Assaulted Child Taken from Officers and Hanged.

Weldon, N. C., May 19.—A negro tramp was lynched at Seaboard, N. C., last night by a crowd of his own race, who swung him up for an assault upon a 7-year-old colored child. A policeman was on his way to jail with the man, who gave his name as Dick Whitehead, when he was overtaken by an infuriated mob of blacks, who took the prisoner from the officer's buggy and hanged him to a nearby tree.

SCHOOL CORNER STONE LAID.

Impressive Ceremony at Union Springs Yesterday.

Union Springs, Ala., May 19.—(Special.) The laying of the corner stone of the $30,000 school building was the important event today. General George P. Harrison, of Opelika, a native Georgian, was acting grand master for the Masons and conducted the impressive ceremony. His address was timely and well received. It bore principally on the Masonic order, its purposes and tenets. This was a notable day for the town, as nothing has been more needed than a modern school building to conform with other town improvements.

Crops have wonderfully improved in past three days, the good result of the rain which broke the distressing drought.

MINE TRAGEDY COMMEMORATED

Solemn Memorial Exercises at Coal Creek Recall Mine Disaster.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 19.—(Special.)—Today at Coal Creek, Anderson county, was observed the second memorial service of the terrible catastrophe of the Praterville mine, which took place May 19, 1902, at 7 o'clock in the morning.

This is regarded as one of the greatest fatalities that ever occurred in the mining district of the south.

The exercises were held in the opera house at Coal Creek, and were very solemn and were attended by families of the dead miners and many union miners from over the east Tennessee and Kentucky coal fields. The exercises began at the opera house this morning at 8 o'clock, with the following orders assembled in the building: Junior Order of American Mechanics, Order of United American Mechanics, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, order of Red Men, Daughters of America, United Mine Workers of America, Knights of Pythias. The programme was carried out in the theater and then the members of the orders named marched to the Leach cemetery, a half mile distant, and there flowers were placed on the graves of the dead miners.

The exercises were opened at the opera house by singing "Nearer, My God, to Thee," after which prayer was offered by Rev. K. W. Cox. After an address by the Rev. J. W. Reed, one of the best known ministers in the coal district, who has been prominently identified with the interests of the miners in Coal Creek and vicinity, the march to the cemetery took place. After the graves had been decorated the party then returned to the opera house, where, shortly before noon, addresses were made by Rev. E. B. Booth, of Oliver Springs; Hon. R. W. Austin, F. J. Callan and others. Hon. Peter Staub, of this city, who was on the programme for an address, did not speak as he met with a serious accident in this city yesterday, being thrown from his buggy and having his leg broken.

The fatality which the exercises today marked is one which shocked the industrial world of the south. The Fraterville mine is owned by the Coal Creek Coal Company, and on the morning of the date stated 187 men and boys entered the mine, and hardly had they gone to work than they were entombed and there they died.

PUT BULLET THROUGH HEART.

Suicide of Orlando Hinton at Taylorville, Ala.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., May 19.—(Special.)—Orlando Hinton, aged 21 years, living at Taylorville, 4 miles south of this place, committed suicide last night by shooting himself through the heart. It is said that young Hinton went to see a young lady in the neighborhood last evening, they having been sweethearts since childhood, whom he expected to elope with today. After leaving her home last night he went home. Soon after he entered his room his father heard the shot, then a groan and ran to Orlando's room, where he found him dead on the floor. Young Hinton was from one of the most prominent families in the sectin where he lived.

ORDERS TO GRAY VETERANS

Regarding the Annual Reunion To Be Held at Nashville.

Montgomery, Ala., May 19.—(Special.) The reunion order for the Nashville meeting of the United Confederate Veterans on June 14, 15 and 16, was issued yesterday afternoon by the adjutant general, Colonel Harvey E. Jones, whose office is in the state capitol. Each camp is entitled to one delegate for every twenty members and one for each fraction of ten, provided that every camp shall have two members at least. Per capita tax must be paid or there will be no representation. The major general commanding, General George P. Harrison, wants every veteran possible to attend and hopes those who are not members of camps will join their old comrades and come along any way. All veterans who so desire will be entertained by the committee in Nashville. Those desiring any other information will be accommodated if they write to the adjutant general here.

HOPE ABANDONED OF COMPROMISE

Both Sides of Peebles Contempt Case Seeking Affidavits.

Peebles Says No Other Judge Is Qualified To Preside—Case Without Precedent in North Carolina—Miss Nichols Sues a Railroad.

Raleigh, N. C., May 19.—(Special.)—All hope of any compromise of the noted Peebles contempt case is now at an end and Judge Peebles, as well as the eleven attorneys composing the bar of Robeson county, whom he accuses of contempt, are seeking for affidavits. Of the latter the attorneys have already filed seventy-five.

The lawyers in the state appear to be backing the members of the Robeson bar. Nearly every one of the latter are Scotch and there never was a more determined lot of people. All hope that the case could be tried by a judge other than the accuser is ended by his declaration that there is no law permitting him to so transfer the case. The case is entirely without precedent, certainly in North Carolina, and many lawyers say in the United States. There have been in this state in the past twenty-five years at least four cases in which attorneys decline to set a docket, but in none of these did the judge take any action for contempt or otherwise.

In the United States circuit court at Asheville, Miss Carrie Nichols is appearing in a suit for $30,000 damages against the Southern railway and the Pullman Car Company for injuries sustained while stepping from a Pullman car a year ago. She appeared as a witness in her own behalf.

This week interest in the state is growing in the four-cornered contest for the democratic nomination for governor, the aspirants being Charles M. Stedman, Theodore F. Davidson (both these ex-confederates), Robert B. Glenn and Wilfrid D. Turner. The Glenn men today make the claim that their man has secured more instructed votes than Stedman. It is the opinion of the leading democrats in the state that Stedman or Glenn will get the nomination. The Stedman adherents claim his nomination as a certainty. The Glenn men use the argument that Stedman has been out of politics for fifteen years.

TWO DROWNED AT CHARLESTON

Visitors to Confederate Reunion Lose Lives While on a Boat Ride.

Charleston, S. C., May 19.—Two visitors to the confederate reunion, J. D. Carmichael, of Dillon, S. C., and J. W. Harmon, a confederate veteran, of Lexington, S. C., were drowned this afternoon in the harbor between Fort Sumter and Fort Moultrie. Two other occupants of the small boat swam to Sullivan's island and the three others of the party were nearly drowned, being rescued just in time by men from the life-saving station.

The harbor was calm as a mill pond and the small cat-rigged boat capsized in an endeavor to put about in order to pick up the hat of one of the party which had blown off.

The rescued men, after being brought ashore, were carried to the army hospital and given immediate attention by the surgeon and his corps.

POLITICIANS ARE ON HAND.

Supreme Court Sitting Brings Them to Montgomery.

Montgomery, Ala., May 19.—(Special.)—Some leading men in current Alabama political history are in the city, drawn here by the sessions of the supreme court, which is considering north Alabama cases this week. Among them is Hon. J. A. Lusk, who gave Congressman John L. Burnett a warm race for the democratic nomination in the seventh district, and made that gentleman put in the hardest work of his life to retain his seat at the nation's capital. There is not a more highly esteemed man in Alabama than Mr. Lusk and he is being cordially received here by his many Montgomery friends.

Mr. Lusk is from Guntersville, that beautiful little city on the Tennessee, and is accompanied by Hon. O. D. Street, from the same pleasant habitation. Though a republican in politics, Mr. Street has a number of friends in the ranks of the democrats, which he once graced himself. He is famous now, however, chiefly as the son of his father, A. T. Street, who is a candidate for probate judge of this county on an independent ticket, opposing J. H. Carter, the regular democratic nominee. Mr. Street was probate judge of Marshall county twenty-four years hand running, being elected two terms of six years each by the democrats and two terms by the populists, whose ranks he joined in the wild and woolly days when the Weaver crowd cut a great deal of political ice in this commonwealth. The old gentleman is popular with his neighbors, a gallant confederate soldier and will be hard to beat.

William B. Bankhead is here from Huntsville. He is a son of Congressman Bankhead, of the sixth. Others here are E. H. Foster and D. A. Grayson, Huntsville; E. W. Godby, J. C. Eyster and A. J. Harris, Decatur; J. N. Nathan, Sheffield.

DRY WEATHER HAS HURT CROPS

Alabama Commissioner of Agriculture's Statement of Crop Conditions.

Montgomery, Ala., May 19.—(Special.)—Commissioner of Agriculture Poole today gave out a statement of crop conditions in Alabama and some other cotton growing states. He gathers from 500 correspondents that the increase in acreage has been 6 per cent, but that the actual crop increase is not up to the average, because of the damage by dry weather and cool nights. There has been little rains in the southeastern part of the state, now recognized as one of the finest cotton sections of the world, and the plant is suffering. There has also been some trouble from bugs in that part of the state.

Ninety-five per cent of the correspondents report the crop late and prospects not as brigat as they might be. Mr. Poole considers the crop of cotton in rather bad shape, especially in that section of the state where rains have not fallen lately. He expects to see some of the cotton lands now in cotton plowed up and put into corn and peas. The corn acreage has been decreased 10 per cent. Stands are fair, but rain is needed.

Dry weather has also had bad effect on the wheat and oat crops. Labor is scarce, which accounts, the commissioner thinks, for the low increase in the cotton acreage. He believes that if there had been plenty of hands to work the fields the increase in the amount of cotton planted would have been large.

The commissioner of Georgia reports little improvement in the situation in that state. The weather continues cool and has been dry most of the time since spring opened. Scattering showers were reported last week in several Georgia localities, which have done some good. The ground is still dry, however, and the plant is making little progress. Much late plantings are not yet up and stands of early planting continue poor. While a few sections report favorably on the Georgia cotton crop, the commissioner regards the "outlook as gloomy; even worse than last year." Wheat and oats are failing from lack of moisture and corn is beginning to be effected. South Georgia is shipping a few peaches and there will be no May grass to contend with, concludes the commissioner.

The same drought conditions prevail in South Carolina as in Georgia, with exceptions in limited localities. Stands are poor and much of the planting is not up. Similar conditions prevail in North Carolina.

Showers are reported in Mississippi and conditions are better there than in Alabama. The stands of both corn and cotton are poor, however.

Planting is well advanced in Arkansas and stands are fair to good. But little replanting will have to be done. Early plantings of cotton have been worked out. Conditions are better than in other states.

WAYCROSS MAN QUITE ELUSIVE

Located in Louisiana by Former Acquaintance Cuppett Again Disappears.

Waycross, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—A letter received by a citizen of Waycross from a former resident of this city tells of having met in Louisiana C. A. Cuppett, who disappeared mysteriously from Waycross several years ago, leaving a wife and young boy here.

Cuppett, who was a fine cabinet maker and an all-round carpenter, came to Waycross about nine years ago. He represented that his wife was dead. Shortly afterwards the supposed wife and children of Cuppett came on a visit to Waycross, but did not remain long. Later the man exhibited a letter purporting to be from relatives and containing the account of the tragic death of his wife.

Soon afterwards Cuppett paid attention to a yonug woman from the rural districts of Coffee county and married her. She bore him a child and the couple were doing very well. One cold night in December Cuppett disappeared, his clothes, letters and bicycle being found near the house in a spot that apparently indicated a fierce struggle. Careful search failed to reveal the body, and the wife mourned him as dead. She returned to her parents in Coffee county, where she now lives. The letter just received in Waycross is as follows:

"You remember the disappearance of Cuppett from Waycross; you remember the people thought he was killed. I ran up on him in Louisiana. I knew his voice only, and I spoke to him, and he denied being the man Cuppett that created a sensation by his mysterious disappearance from Waycross; but I told him I knew better, and so he confessed and talked with me about the matter. He took me to his house and introduced me to his wife and child. He had married in that state. Several weeks after I left the town where I met Cuppett, he disappeared from that place as he did at Waycross, leaving his wife and child. His wife's brother searched every town in Louisiana, but could find no trace of him. Soon after his wife disappeared, and no one knew where she went. Cuppett had done well in Louisiana, and owned a nice home."

Cuppett was a man of intelligence. He represented while here that he had been in the employment of the government, assisting in surveying government land.

BROWN STANDS BY COMRADE.

Says He Will Support Davis in the Second Primary.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 19.—(Special.)—Since it has been definitely settled that Robert W. Davis, the present congressman from the second district of Florida, and Napoleon B. Broward, rival candidates for governor, will have to enter a second primary, Captain Broward and his friends have been claiming that Broward was certain to receive a large majority of the votes that were cast in the first primary for Brown and Mays.

Today Hon. C. M. Brown, who was the third highest candidate in the race for the nomination for governor, declared most emphatically that he would support Congressman Davis in the second primary. Mr. Brown is a confederate veteran, and in the first primary received almost the unanimous support of the veterans of Florida. In speaking of the campaign, Mr. Brown said:

"I thank from the bottom of my heart the thousands of active friends who championed my cause in the primary just closed. I desire to especially thank the old confederate veterans, who stood for me shoulder to shoulder, as they did wher the shot and shell were flying fast and thick above us in the civil war, knowing as they did that I would carry their flag in the civic conflict unsullied and unstained. I have decided that Robert W. Davis' record as a confederate soldier, and especially his position as to the land interests of the state and along all lines in which people are directly interested, is satisfactory. I feel it my duty to the people of Florida to give Colonel Davis my hearty and zealous support during the second primary campaign and I believe it to the interest of the people to nominate him for governor of the state."

MARTIN CLAIMS BIG DAMAGES.

Files Suit Against Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

Jesup, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—William M. Martin, of this town, by his attorney, C. T. Ladson, of Atlanta, filed suit against the Atlantic Coast Line today in Wayne superior court claiming $30,000 damages.

The plaintiff alleges that last January he was run over at Cherry street crossing by a passenger train, cutting off both of his legs, and that the railroad company was grossly negligent because the engine had no headlight burning, gave no signals as the law requires and was running at a dangerous rate of speed.

REQUISITION FOR H. C. WALL.

Young Man Charged with Murder in Louisiana.

Jackson, Miss., May 19.—(Special.)—Governor Vardaman this afternoon honored the requisition of Governor Blanchard, of Louisiana, for H. C. Wall, citizen of Mississippi, who is under indictment in Tangipahoa parish for killing L. N. Varnardo, a prominent merchant of Osyak Miss. The killing occurred right over the state line in Louisiana. The requisition was resisted by Wall, who was represented by two promnent attorneys and was present in person himself. The governor of Louisiana was represented by the district attorney, who drew the indictment. All the morning was spent in arguing the case before the governor, who this afternoon decided that Wall must go to Louisiana and stand trial.

FOUR BISHOPS NOW ELECTED

Three More Chosen By Methodist Conference Yesterday.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 19.—Three additional bishops were elected today at the Methodist general conference, Dr. W. F. McDowell and Dr. Henry Spellmeyer on the second ballot, which was announced at the morning session, and Dr. J. W. Bashford, chosen on the fourth ballot late this afternoon. The third ballot resulted in no election.

Four of the eight bishops to be elected have thus been chosen as follows:

Dr. J. F. Berry, Chicago.
Dr. Henry Spellmeyer, Newark, N. J.
Dr. William F. McDowell, New York.
Dr. J. W. Bashford, Delaware, Ohio.

The fifth ballot was taken just before adjournment and as a result of it, it is reasonably certain that Dr. Burt is elected as the fifth bishop and perhaps Dr. T. B. Neely a sixth.

Dr. J. W. E. Bowens' loss of 184 votes on the fourth ballot is thought to be an indication that he is out of the running, but it does not necessarily affect his candidacy for missionary bishop. He is the negro candidate.

ENDLESS CHAIN FAKE FOR IROQUOIS VICTIMS

Chicago, May 19.—An endless chain scheme to collect several million 25 cent pieces for the alleged benefit of the chorus girls of the "Mr. Bluebeard, Jr." Company, of the Iroquois fire memory, has appeared in Chicago on its way from New York. It met with instant denunciation from Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler.

"The girls need no aid," he said. "Persons induced to contribute in the endless chain are the victims of a suspicious and unauthorized appeal."

The letter which reached Chicago was one of the twenty-second series of the contemplated chain of fifty.

COPELON WAS NOMINATED.

The convention was called to order by nominating Hawes Cloud, of Taliaferro, chairman, and J. C. Williams, of Taliaferro, secretary. F. B. Shipp, of Greene, placed Mr. Copelan in nomination and he was unanimously nominated.

Mr. Copelan was present and made an appropriate address. The district is composed of the counties of Warren, Greene and Taliaferro.

After the convention adjourned the nominee entertained the delegates with a sumptuous luncheon at the Holden-Reid hotel.

EXPRESS MESSENGER BESET BY MAMMOTH SEA LION

Kansas City, May 19.—W. H. May, a Wells-Fargo express messenger, who arrived here from the west on the California train over the Santa Fe railroad, had an encounter while nearing Kansas City with a monster sea lion, being transported from San Francisco to New York. The sea lion broke from its box and made for the messenger at the other end of the car. Two dogs chained in the car were set upon the sea lion, but it drove them off and May was compelled to shoot it.

CAN PREVENT POOL SELLING.

Alabama Supreme Court Gives Sports a Blow.

Montgomery, Ala., May 19.—In affirming the action of the lower court in the case of the Old Dominion Telegraph Company, of Mobile, v. John F. Powers, sheriff, which came up from the chancery court of Mobile county, the supreme court of Alabama today dealt another blow to pool selling on horse races in Alabama. The decision of the court, in effect, was that the local officers, acting under a city ordinance, could prevent the selling of pools on horse races, and that a chancellor was not called upon to enjoin them from interfering with the conduct of such a business. This is the second similar case so decided by the supreme court recently.

Minor Matters with Engineers.

MORE FIGHTING IN SAN DOMINGO

Government Forces and Insurgents Each Win a Victory.

Cape Haitien, Haiti, May 19.—Dominican government troops, commanded by General Raoul Cabrera, and Dominican revolutionary troops, led by General Pelico LaSalla and other generals, met recently at Guayacanes, Santo Domingo, midway between Santiago de Los Caballeros and Monte Cristi.

In the fighting which followed the government had thirty men killed or wounded and the revolutionists lost heavily. Five revolutionary generals, including Espaillat, sought refuge in the French and Venezuelan consulates here and later embarked on the French steamer Olinde Rodriguez, bound for Porto Rico. All is quiet at present.

orales' Cartridges Taken.

Turks Islands, Bahama, May 19.—Mail advices from San Domingo announce severe fighting at Navareto on May 14. The government troops were defeated, losing fifty-four men killed and sixty-seven wounded. A convoy conveying 20,000 cartridges from Puerto Plata to President Morales' forces fell into the hands of the Dominican insurgents.

WAS FREE BUT FIVE MINUTES.

Henry Rogers Serves Sentence at Federal Prison Only To Be Again Arrested.

Henry Rogers, alias Frank Thomas, was released from the federal prison yesterday afternoon, but his freedom was but for five minutes. Sheriff W. W. Pridger, of Conecuh county, Alabama, was waiting for him just outside of the prison reservation. Rogers is wanted back in Alabama for an assault with attempt to murder committed seven years ago.

His detection was only another evidence of the wonderful workings of the Bertillon system of measurements. Shortly after committing the crime seven years ago, Rogers made good his escape, and trailed into the western country. After stampeding around in the west for some time he located in Indian Territory and engaged in the distilling of whisky without applying to the government or paying the necessary tax. He was arrested and sent to the United States penitentiary to serve his sentence, which ended yesterday.

As soon as he arrived in Atlanta, he was examined and measured by Expert Nye, and in this way Frank Thomas proved to be the same man who lived in Alabama as Henry Rogers. While there was no mistaking the fact that the man was surprised and disappointed at finding Sheriff Pridger waiting for him, he made no attempt to escape, and started quietly on his way to Alabama, where he will be tried for the crime committed seven years ago.

MILITIA GUARD NOT NEEDED.

Mississippi Troops Not Needed To Protect Criminal.

Jackson, Miss., May 19.—(Special.)—Word reaches here from Columbia that the citizens of that place are quite indignant over the calling out of two companies of militia to protect the negro, Julias Pace, from being lynched when he was taken there for trial on the charge of criminal assault. They assert that there never was, at any time, any danger of mob violence, and that the prisoner could have easily been protected by the local authorities, and the statement seems to be very well substantiated by the fact that when Pace was first captured and fell into the hands of the mob he was taken from them by a solitary deputy sheriff, armed only with a small revolver.

Governor Vardaman's action in sending the escort of troops was based on a direct rumor that an effort would be made the lynch Pace. It seems, however, that this rumor was akin to the rumored mobs at Tutwiler and Webb, which afterwards proved to be the airy creations of somebody's imagination. There has not been a single instance in Mississippi within the past twelve months when the use of troops saved the life of a person charged with criminal assault.

New York Drummer Hurt.

Macon, May 19.—(Special.)—In leaping from a moving train on the Central of Georgia near the junction this afternoon J. H. Wakeliff, a traveling man, was severely injured. Wakeliff, who represents a New York house, boarded a train at the union depot and just as he reached the junction he recalled the fact that he had left his purse at an up-town ticket office. Except his railroad tickets, there was little in the purse, but Wakeliff decided to come back to get it. To a friend who was on the same seat he surrendered his grips and sample cases, saying that he would follow on the next train. In leaping from the coach step he caught his foot in the iron support and was thrown violently to the ground. He was badly scratched and bruised, but was able, after having his injuries dressed, to leave the city on a later train for Savannah.

CRITTENTON HOME RUINED BY FLAMES

Refuge Institution at Columbus Destroyed.

Narrow Escapes of Some of the Inmates — Appointment of Members of Senatorial Democratic Executive Committee from Muscogee.

Columbus, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—The Florence Crittenton home, on Lower Front street, was practically destroyed by fire at noon today, the roof being burned and the rear rooms of the residence falling in. The fire began in the top of the house. Practically all of the furniture was saved.

While one of the inmates, a young woman, was in her room engaged in throwing articles out, the ceiling over her gave way, letting fire through. She jumped through the window just in time to avoid being caught by the falling fire. She was uninjured by the leap, although she fell several feet out from the window.

The building is owned by the Florence Crittenton Circle, and is insured. The home will be rebuilt. One of the inmates, a woman with a babe only two or three days old, was carried into an adjoining house. Temporary quarters have been secured for the other inmates.

Committeemen Appointed.

Columbus, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—Today Hon. J. E. Chapman, chairman of the democratic executive committee of Muscogee county, appointed Herman Swift and W. C. Woodall as the members from Muscogee on the new senatorial democratic executive committee for this, the twenty-fourth district. The appointment was made by virtue of a resolution adopted by the retiring senatorial committee.

Long Will Soon See Children.

Columbus, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—In a special Pullman car the children of J. W. Long, at Buena Vista, Ga., will see the St. Louis exposition, and in making the trip will also be united with a long-absent father.

Twelve years ago Mrs. J. W. Long, of Crescent City, Okla., accompanied by her three children, went to Buena Vista, and while on a visit to her father, A. D. McComb, now postmaster of the town, she was taken ill and died. About the same time financial misfortune overtook Mr. Long, and so Mr. McComb, the grandfather of the children, kept them and reared them.

A few years ago Mr. Long took up a 160-acre claim in Oklahoma. The adjoining claim was taken by a young lady. The two fell in love and married, and thus the couple jointly owned 320 acres. A railroad now runs through the tract of land, a town sprang up, called "Longdale," after its founder, and now Mr. Long is rich. He has written to Georgia for his children—Miss Edna Long, Miss Lilele Long and Arthur Long—and has also sent to each of them a deed to a home in Longdale. They go to Oklahoma in a few days, and from there go to St. Louis to see the exposition.

Lewis Invited To Deliver Address.

Columbus, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—J. H. Lewis, a well-known young lawyer of this city, has been invited by the Daughters of the Confederacy to deliver the address at the Jefferson Davis birthday exercises in Columbus June 3, and today accepted.

PROPOSAL TO REDUCE RATES

Where Chimneys and Flues Are Built from the Ground.

Hot Springs, Va., May 19.—(Special.)—The committee of twenty-five, through which the Southeastern Tariff Association is formulating its work, at the annual session here today, made a proposal to reduce rates 10 per cent on dwelling risks when the policy contains a warranty that chimneys and flues are built from the ground. Concessions are also made in vacancy permits and builders' risks. In the matter of cooperating companies, the members of the association remain in agencies where they have assurance that the rules and regulations of the association as to commissions will be observed, unless such conflict with the laws of states where it is provised to put them in force.

The recent rate advance in Birmingham was recommended to be rebalied and an advance of 10 per cent on present rates, with a three-quarters valuation clause applied, except on standard manufacturing and sprinklered risks and fireproof office buildings; also, a pink slip attached to all such policies, detailing the cause of this action.

Final action will be taken by the association on these matters tomorrow.

WORKED UNDER MANY JUDGES

Difficulties Experienced by Richmond Superior Court.

Augusta, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—Judge Henry C. Hammond will make his initial bow from the superior court bench tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, and will immediately hear the report of the grand jury of Richmond county, which has been patiently waiting for a judge to report to for the last three weeks. This grand jury has possibly had a more variegated experience than any similar body ever organized in the state. It has worked under a number of different judges and has had a harder time getting released from its task than a convict. This jury was drawn by Judge Holden, of Crawfordville, charged and sworn in by Judge Cann, of Savannah, and has worked under Judges Cann, Holden, Daly and Freeman. It will be discharged by Judge Hammond, making five judges it has worked with.

After the report and dismissal of the grand jury the court will immediately devote considerable time to clearing the congested dockets of the district. Judge Hammond will have his hands full during the next year, getting rid of the cases now on the books and keeping up with the new business that is constantly arising. The lawyers have great hopes of getting the business straightened out without any great delay, for Judge Hammond is not only young and strong, but is very quick and accurate in his methods as a lawyer, and it is thought the same attributes will stand him in good stead on the bench. He is popular and every lawyer in the circuit will work in absolute harmony with him.

For Running Blind Tiger.

Waycross, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—B. K. Cross, who, it is said, moved to Waycross from Macon, was arrested here by the police on a charge of keeping whisky for sale. He employed counsel, who asked for a continuance of the case in the mayor's court, which was granted. Next Tuesday was set as the date for the hearing. Mr. Cross, who is a man of intelligence, gave bond in the sum of $200 for his appearance at the above stated time. The defendant says he has been studying telegraphy here. He is a cripple and has a family.

SURGEONS HOLD NINTH SESSION

Southern Railway Surgeons Hear the President's Annual Address.

The ninth annual meeting of the Association of Surgeons of the Southern Railway Company met at the Piedmont hotel convention hall yesterday morning with more than fifty members present. All through the day prominent surgeons from all parts of the south continued to arrive and it is expected that some 150 members will be here today. Dr. R. L. Payne, president of the association, from Norfolk, called the convention to order and introduced Rev. Dr. W. W. Landrum, who opened the session with prayer. Mayor Evan P. Howell then welcomed the visiting surgeons to Atlanta and extended to them the city in one of his own happy speeches. Dr. George Ross, of Richmond, Va., responded in a few well chosen words of thanks.

President Payne then read his annual address in which he opposed the members of the association appearing as expert witnesses for the railroad company in damage suits. He said that this custom had been much misunderstood by the public at large who seemed to be of the opinion that the surgeons were simply hired witnesses of the railroad and for this reason they were subjected to much unjust criticism. He advocated securing expert witnesses not in the employ of the company in cases where this kind of testimony was needed. President Payne also referred with much feeling to the death of the late Captain W. M. Green, who while not a member of the association, was the head of the surgical department of the road. Later resolutions on the death of Captain Green were passed. Owing to the unavoidable absence of Dr. J. J. Harrison, of Loudon, Tenn., the regular secretary of the association, Dr. W. W. Harper, of Selma, was elected to that position.

After a number of reports of standing committees, Dr. Harper, of Selma, read a paper on "Injuries of the Hand," which was later discussed by all the members present. Dr. R. J. Noble, of Selma, also read a paper on "Report of Case of Injury to the Hand," which closed the morning session.

Afternoon Session.

There was a noticeable increase in the attendance at the afternoon session when the following subjects were considered:

"Conservative Treatment of Severe Leg Injuries," Surgeon H. T. A. Lemon, Washington, D. C.

"When to Amputate," Surgeon Hubert Royster, Raleigh, N. C.

"Shock in Railway Accidents," Surgeon H. W. Rencher, Scooba, Miss.

"Compound Complete Dislocation of Ankle, Without Fracture," Surgeon DeSaussure Ford, Augusta, Ga.

The day closed with an evening session at which the following were the subjects of papers read and later discussed by all those present:

"A Case and a Question," Surgeon George Ross, Richmond, Va.

"The Non-Surgical Management, by the Surgeon, of Persons Injured by Railroads," Surgeon J. Schenck, Mount Carmel, Ills.

Only one session of the convention will be held today. This will open at 10 o'clock when the following subjects will be considered:

"The Management of the Surgical Department of the Railway Company," Surgeon B. G. Copeland, Birmingham, Ala.

"The Diagnosis and Prognosis of the Unconscious State in Cases of Injury," Surgeon S. R. Miller, Knoxville, Tenn.

"Report of Two Cases," Surgeon Thomas H. Hancock, Atlanta.

"Report of Cases," Surgeon C. P. Gordon, Dalton, Ga.

"Report of Cases," Surgeon-Oculist M. F. Coomes, Louisville, Ky.

In the afternoon the surgeons will take a trolley ride to the federal prison, where the entire party will be the guests of Warden Meyer of that institution. At 9 o'clock at night the annual banquet will be held at the Piedmont. The convention will be brought to a close with a session tomorrow morning when more papers of a technical nature will be discussed and officers for the ensuing year elected.

St. Louis, May 19.—Judge Amos B. Thayer, in the United States circuit court, has handed down a decision granting injunctions against the sale of non-transferable tickets by ticket brokers engaged in business in St. Louis. These injunctions affect ten firms, and were granted on application of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company and the Mobile and Ohio Railroad Company. This is the most pronounced defeat the ticket brokers have yet received in their fight to sustain themselves against the attacks of railroads centering in St. Louis.

By consent of all the parties injunctions were granted enjoining the sale of the world's fair excursion tickets. The decision restrains the sale of all excursion tickets, mileage books and all other tickets of whatsoever kind that are by their terms non-transferable.

Philadelphia, May 19.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania railroad held today Henry Tattnall, of this city, was elected treasurer and sixth vice president of the company.

NEEL IS ELECTED BY PRESBYTERIANS

Kansas City Divine Chosen as Moderator of Convention.

Northern and Southern Churches To Consider the Question of Settling Their Differences—Proceedings of Three General Assemblies.

Mobile, Ala., May 19.—The fourteenth general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church convened at 11 o'clock today in the Government Street Presbyterian church. Several hundred delegates are in attendance. The proceedings were opened with prayer by Dr. J. B. Shearer, of Davidson, N. C., who was followed by Dr. W. T. Palmer, of New Orleans. This was followed by a sermon by the retiring moderator, Dr. A. C. Hopkins, of the First Presbyterian church of Charlestown, W. Va.

After the sermon, the assembly was called together, after which the stated clerk, Dr. W. A. Alexander, read the roll call of commissioners appointed. The most important matter to come before the assembly is the proposed union of the northern and southern churches. The question of union with the Dutch Reform church will also be considered. The states of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia are embraced in the general assembly, and delegates are present from all. Two colored delegates, both from Alabama, are in attendance.

The conference began last night by the representatives of the five theological seminaries, supported by the church, was continued today. The seminaries are represented as follows: Union Theological seminary, Richmond, Va., Dr. T. R. English; Columbia Theological seminary, Columbia, S. C., Dr. W. E. Boggs; Kentucky Theological seminary, Louisville, Ky., Dr. C. R. Hemphill and Dr. S. N. Neil; Austin Theological seminary, Austin, Tex., Dr. T. R. Sampson; Southwestern Presbyterian Theological seminary, Clarksville, Tenn., Dr. W. A. Alexander.

The work of the conference is to prepare for the general assembly papers, dealing with the management of educational institutions at which young men are prepared for the ministry.

The general assembly will be in session ten days.

Neel Elected Moderator.

The assembly was called to order in the afternoon at 3 o'clock by the moderator, Rev. A. C. Hopkins, the first order of business being the election of the new moderator. The candidates presented to the assembly were Rev. W. E. Boggs, Jacksonville, Ark.; Rev. J. E. McNeilly, Nashville, Tenn.; Rev. J. B. French, Fort Worth, Tex., and Rev. S. M. Neel, Kansas City, Mo.

On the third ballot Rev. S. M. Neel, of Kansas City, was elected. He was conducted to the chair by Revs. Fleming and French, and congratulated by the retiring moderator, making a suitable response.

Upon taking the chair, the moderator announced the election of minute clerk as the first business. The retiring moderator, Rev. A. C. Hopkins, moved the election be made the special order for Monday at 4 p. m. This precipitated a lengthy debate which lasted over an hour, the older members of the assembly clamoring for delay, while the younger urged immediate action. The matter resulted in the nomination of the following and making the election of minute clerk the special for 11 a. m. tomorrow: Rev. J. H. N. Summerell, Norfolk, Va.; Rev. J. D. Leslie, Central Texas presbytery; Rev. C. P. Thompson, Lexington, Ky.; Rev. T. R. Law, Spartanburg, S. C.; Rev. W. S. Campbell, Richmond, Va.; Rev. Alex M. Frazier, Staunton, Va.; Rev. T. L. McCue, Jackson, Miss.

Rev. E. A. Abbott, Fayette, Mo., and Rev. A. Y. Allison, Lake Charles, Mo., were elected temporary clerks.

Rev. A. F. Carr presented the moderator with a gavel from a piece of the first wharf built by Bienville at Mobile, in 1710, recently excavated, its authenticity being proved by old maps found in France.

The following special orders were made: Friday, 8 p. m., Sunday school and young people's work; Monday, 8 p. m., ministerial relief.

Dr. S. M. Neel, the new moderator, is pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, Kansas City, Mo. He is of the noted Mecklenburg, N. C., stock, and was educated at the LaGrange college, LaGrange, Tenn., which perished during the civil war. He practiced law in Memphis in his younger days, was a soldier in the confederate army and at the close of the war studied theology in Columbia, S. C., and Edinborough, Scotord, Miss., thence went to Shelbyville, Ky., from which place he went to his present charge.

Northern Presbyterians.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 19.—The one hundred and sixteenth general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States convened here today with a very large attendance. There are in all 710 commissioners entitled to seats in this general assembly, which is the court of last resort of the Presbyterian body in this country, representing 1,100,000 persons, 7,800 congregations and 7,600 ministers.

One of the main questions to be considered is an overture from a committee of the Cumberland church, which seceded from the parent body in 1810 and was organized as a separate church. The secession was on doctrinal and educational grounds. Predestination and the educational qualifications for the ministry were among the grounds of dissent. The overture from the Cumberland body made to a committee, of which the Rev. Dr. William Henry Roberts is chairman, looks to reunion with the parent body. The plan of proposed union will give rise to an interesting debate. While the Presbyterian general assembly is meeting here, the general assembly of the Cumberland church will be simultaneously held at Dallas, Tex.

Upon their decisions depend the questions whether the Cumberland church shall be restored to Christian fellowship with its membership of 185,000, mostly in the south and southwest. Upon this decision also will depend the future maintenance of a separate colored church, with separate presbyteries, as are now being maintained under the Cumberland jurisdiction.

A communication has been received from the Springfield presbytery requesting that the report from the committee on the matter be recommitted until action has been taken concerning certain of the proposed grounds of amalgamation. It is thought by some that the terms in the proposed agreement are likely to defeat its purpose.

Educational endeavor also will have a prominent place in the discussion, as will the ritual. It is probable that a form of ritual will be adopted which may be regarded as official for the church, but the use of which will be left entirely to the wishes of the congregation.

Cumberland Presbyterians.

Dallas, Tex., May 19.—About three hundred delegates were present when the seventy-fifth annual session of the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church was called to order at 11 o'clock today in the First church. Dr. R. M. Tinnon, of Denver, the retiring moderator, preached the opening sermon. Today's sessions are purely preliminary.

The delegates were welcomed by Mayor Barry this afternoon and pastors of all denominations in the city addressed the assemblage. Day and night sessions will be held and many important subjects will be introduced for discussion and decision.

Previous to assembling for today's services a general reception was held in the rooms of the Commercial Club and the visitors were introduced to the representative citizens of Dallas. Among the promfhent divines who will take prominent part in the proceedings of the sessions are J. M. Hubburt, D. D., of Marshall, Mo.; J. V. Stevens, D. D., Lebanon, Tenn.; J. E. Clark, editor of The Cumberland Presbyterian, Nashville, Tenn.; Judge W. E. Settle, Bowling Green, Ky.; A. E. Turner, president Waynesboro college, Pennsylvania; W. F. Darby, D. D., Evansville, Ind.; E. E. Ingram, D. D., and W. B. Hulmes, D. D., of Nashville.

SECRETARY HAY SPEAKS TO NEWSPAPER CONGRESS

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, St. Louis, May 19.—Secretary of State John Hay in opening the world's newspaper parliament today said in part:

"I thank you, Mr. Chairman; I thank you, gentlemen—all of you—for your too generous and amiable welcome. I esteem it a great privilege to meet so many representatives of an estate which, more than any other, at this hour controls the world. It is my daily duty in Washington to confer with the able and distinguished representatives of civilized sovereigns and states. But we are all aware that the days of personal government are gone forever; that behind us, and behind the rulers we represent there stands the vast, irresistible power of public opinion, which in the last resort must decide all questions we discuss, and whose judgment is final. In your persons I greet the organs and exponents of that tremendous power with all the respect which is due to you and your constituency, deeply sensible of the honor which has been done me in making me the mouthpiece of the sentiment of appreciation and regard with which the nation welcomes you to this great festival of peace and of progress.

"We celebrate this year, with the generous assistance of a friendly world, the most important event in the history of this great valley, an event which in far-reaching and lasting results is surpassed by few in the life of the nation. It is perhaps true that to the philsophic mind all periods are critical—that every hour is the end of an era and the beginning of a new order of ages. But to us ordinary observers there occur from time to time crises in history when the line of cleavage between the old and the new is clear and distinct, where the aloe blooms, where the avalance leaves the mountain top, where the leisurely march of events is quickened to the dynamic rush of irresistible destiny.

"The transfer of this imperial domain from European to American control was one of those transactions which render the period of their accomplishment memorable for all time. In no other act did the men who made the revolution—'men,' as Lowell called them, 'with empires in their brains'—more clearly show their marvelous prophetic insight. The United States was, in 1803, a feeble folk, with hardly enough population to occupy the long Atlantic seacoast; with the great spaces of the middle west scarcely yet picketed by adventurous pioneers; with imperfect means of defense against a world which still looked askance at the half-known upstart which might prove dangerous hereafter; with the heavy cares incident to the building of a new nation upon yet untried foundations. But weighty as were their responsibilities they did not hesitate to assume others weightier still. To an undeveloped empire they seized the occasion to add another still wilder and more remote. To their half-finished task they undauntedly superimposed another full of exacting and perilous possibilities. In their robust faith in the future—their fearless confidence in the force of the new democracy—difficulties were not considered and the impossible did not exist. To men of that strain, in an enterprise which promised usefulness and glory, toil and danger were only irresistible attractions.

"One of the most brilliant and tenacious dreams of Bonaparte was to establish on the right bank of the Mississippi a Latin empire reaching from the gulf to the Pacific ocean, extending in future ages the glories of France to the sunset seas. The principle dearest to the heart of Jefferson was that of a strict construction of the constiution, which in his view forbade the exercise by the general government of anything but expressly delegated powers. It would have seemed like a contradiction in terms to expect either of these statesmen to agree upon a proposition which radically contravened the inmost convictions of each of them. But the nature of things was more powerful than either a Bonaparte or a Jefferson. No human influence could have controlled either of them, but the stars in their courses were still stronger and they gladly obeyed the mandate of an enlightened patriotism. France, divesting herself of this rich incumbrance, was the better fitted for the supreme gladitorial effort that awaited her, and Jefferson gained an immortal fame by preferring an immense benefit to his country to consistency in a narrow construction of the written law.

No man, no party, can fight with any chance of final success against a cosmic tendency; no cleverness, no popularity, avails against the spirit of the age. In obeying that invincible tendency, against all his political convictions, Jefferson secured a conspicuous place in history; while the federalist politicians who should have welcomed this signal illustration and proof of the truth of their theory of the power of the government they had framed, through the influence of party spirit faltered in their faith and brought upon their party a lasting eclipse through their failure to discern the signs of the times. President Roosevelt, in the memorable address with which he dedicated last year this exhibition, used, in relation to this subject, these striking words:

"As is so often the case in nature, the law of development of a living organism showed itself in its actual workings to be wiser than the wisdom of the wisest."

From every part of the world you have gathered to share in this secular festival of historic memories. You represent not only the world-wide community of intelligence, but the wonderful growth in these modern days of universal sympathy and good will—what our poet Bayard Taylor, speaking on a similar occasion in Vienna and adding, I believe, a new word to the German language, called Weltgemuethlichkeit. Of all the phenomena of the last hundred years there is none more wonderful than that increase of mutual knowledge which has led inevitably to a corresponding increase in mutual toleration and esteem. The credit of this great advance in civilization belongs to the press of the world. It is true that it is the modest boast of modern diplomacy that its office is the removal of misunderstandings, that so far as intentions go its ways are pleasantness and its paths are peace; but how slight are the results that the best-intentioned diplomat can attain in this direction, compared with the illuminating blaze of light which the press each morning radiates on the universe.

We cannot claim that the light is all of one color, nor that there are not many angles of refraction; but, from this endless variety of opinion and assertion, truth at last emerges, and every day adds something to the world's knowledge of itself. There is a wise French proverb, "to understand is to pardon," and every step of progress which the peoples of the earth make in their comprehension of each other's conditions and motives is a step forward in the march to the goal desired by men and angels, of universal peace and brotherhood.

Upon none of the arts or professions has the tremendous acceleration of progress in recent years had more effect than upon that of which you are the representatives. We easily grow used to miracles; it will seem a mere commonplace when I say that all the wonders of the magicians invented by those ingenious Oriental poets who wrote the "Arabian Nights" pale before the stupendous facts which you handle in your daily lives. The air has scarcely ceased to vibrate with the utterances of kings and rulers in the older realms when their words are read in the streets of St. Louis and on the farms of Nebraska.

The telegraph is too quick for the calendar. you may read in your evening paper a dispatch from the antipodes with a date of the following day.

In the name of the president—writer, soldier and statesman, eminent in all three professions and in all equally an advocate of justice, peace and good will—I bid you a cordial welcome, with the prayer that this meeting of the representatives of the world's intelligence may be fruitful in advantage to the press of all nations and may bring us somewhat nearer to the dawn of the day of peace on earth and good will among men. Let us remember that we are met to celebrate the transfer of a vast empire from one nation to another without the firing of a shot, without the shedding of one drop of blood. If the press of the world would adopt and persist in the high resolve that war should be no more, the clangor of arms would cease from the rising of the sun to its going down, and we could fancy that at last our ears, no longer stunned by the din of armies, might hear the morning stars singing together and all the sons of God shouting for joy.

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL

Endorses

Beer as Opposed to Patent Medicines.

Of course, a pure, wholesome beer is meant—that is

Budweiser

Mr. Edward Bok, editor of The Ladies' Home Journal, in a page article in the May issue gives a list of 36 medicines with official analysis asserting them to contain 12 to 47 per cent. of Alcohol!

And he adds in black type:

"In connection with this list, think of beer, which contains only from two to five per cent. of alcohol, while some of these 'bitters' contain ten times as much, making them stronger than whisky, far stronger than sherry or port, with claret and champagne way behind."

Mr. Bok continues:

"A mother who would hold up her hands in holy horror at the thought of her child drinking a glass of beer, which contains from two to five per cent. of alcohol, gives to that child with her own hands a patent medicine that contains from seventeen to forty-four per cent. of alcohol."

Budweiser contains only $3\frac{89}{100}$ per cent. of alcohol. It is better than pure water because of the nourishing qualities of malt and the tonic properties of hops.

Budweiser is pre-eminently a family beverage; its use promotes the cause of true temperance—it guards the safety of health and home. Budweiser is

Some people who talk about "reelecting" President Roosevelt evidently have forgotten that he is serving out the term of the late President McKinley.

Some one who has kept tab finds that President Roosevelt has directly violated the civil service law sixty times since his induction into the presidency. And yet he was once the chief rat in the civil service reform barn.

It is announced at Washington that there has been a complete restoration of the friendly relations between the United States and Colombia, but Colombia seems to feel disposed to rock along without an embassy at Washington.

Some theatrical man in New York suggests earnestly that the New York newspapers cease criticising plays because their criticisms sometimes damage the box office interests of the show at the one-night stands in "the provinces."

A Forceful Appeal for Harmony.

Speaking as one of an army of Georgia democrats who have no personal ambitions and whose only interest in politics is democratic success, Colonel John A. Davis, of Albany, makes, through The Albany Herald, a forceful and patriotic appeal for democratic harmony. Colonel Davis prefaces his appeal with the statement that while he has never been a politician and never expects to be, he trusts he may make modest claims to being a patriot—a claim to which all who know him will give hearty indorsement.

After making brief reference to the divisions of the past, Colonel Davis asks:

Who of us that will not admit, in the light of past experiences, that a continuance of these factional differences will result in the future as in the past in the defeat and consequent injury to the country? Who of us are not compelled to admit that victory for the democratic party can only be obtained in the coming presidential election by forgetting and ignoring past differences and coming together in patriotic unity?

"Surely," he adds, "there is not a democrat who is not willing to admit his own mistakes and to forgive the mistakes of others for the sake of unity that means victory and the restoration of our country to sound constitutional government. Let us, forgetting past differences, unite upon some democratic leader of broad patriotism and statesmanship who can and will lead us to victory."

While Colonel Davis undertakes to write only for himself, he in reality voices the sentiments of the great majority of the party in Georgia and throughout the southern states, whose chief interest—whose only interest—is the party's good. Such democrats have no patience with the efforts to stir up factionalism by their advocacy of a policy of proscription. The democrats of the southern states have, through bitter experience, come to a full realization of the dangers of factional division and they are not prepared to "draw the line" against democrats of unquestioned loyalty.

The need for party harmony cannot be too strongly or too often impressed upon the democrats, not of this state alone, but of all the states. If the democratic party is to have any show at all in the coming campaign, it must be by presenting a united front to the common enemy, and the most practical way to prepare for this is by starting at home. There can be no place for a policy of proscription in any programme looking to real harmony. As that brilliant old veteran of Texas, John H. Reagan, recently put it:

With me it is no question whether we can defeat and punish any faction in the democratic party, but whether we shall, by uniting all democrats, secure an election which will restore the constitution, good government and the best interests of the people of this great republic.

That is the spirit which is inspiring enthusiasm in the breasts of the democrats of Texas, of the country at large and of Georgia. There is no room in this great democratic revival for anybody's proscriptive policy.

Republican Troubles in the West.

The republicans are, apparently, having their full share of troubles in the middle west. With an open split in Wisconsin which threatens a democratic victory there, a deadlock in Illinois, a serious division in Michigan, and a complete turn-down of the Cummins element in Iowa, there is no end of bad feeling cropping out all along the line.

On the surface, the worst situation, from the republican standpoint, is in Wisconsin, but the republican leaders, especially the men most interested in the political prospects of President Roosevelt, are not a little alarmed about Illinois. Iowa is probably too strongly republican to prevent even the serious sores being nursed by the Cummins men to do any great amount of injury, but there is always a possibility of Michigan being in the doubtful column.

The determination of the national leaders to squelch everything that looks like attack upon the blessed Dingley fetich is responsible for the trouble in Iowa and also in Michigan, in both of which states there have been many republican voters deluded enough to believe that the party's promises of tariff revision and reciprocity had some substance to them. The Iowa and Michigan farmers have never yet been able to see why they should pay the various agricultural implement trusts more for their machinery than these manufacturers charge the farmers of Europe; and in Michigan, particularly, the sentiment in favor of closer trade relations with Canada has been growing constantly.

To some extent, this feeling figures in the sensational contest in Wisconsin, having been promoted by the La-Follette wing of the party; but personal ambitions undoubtedly cut the greater figure there. Whichever side comes out nominal victor at Madison, the breach is sure to be so great as to seriously endanger the party's prospects. In Illinois there are no principles involved so far as we have been able to discover. Governor Yates wants a third term, and a majority of the party is determined he shall not have it. If he finally succeeds in nominating himself, the democrats will have an excellent chance of carrying the state. Indeed, the feeling between the supporters of the different leading candidates is so bitter that the same result may follow the nomination of any of Governor Yate's principal opponents.

In view of which conditions, the wiser republican leaders are much perturbed, and naturally. These men realize that there is a wonderful lack of enthusiasm over President Roosevelt in the hearts of all conservative republicans, and they realize further that in a presidential year there is nothing quite so essential as complete party harmony.

Ostracizing Colored Labor.

Under the foregoing head the esteemed Duluth News-Tribune says:

The reaction in the south against the negro has swung far to the political and social ostracism of him. He is to be banned and barred it seems, even from the association with the caucasian in the performance of menial tasks.

This apropos of the action of "The Hotel and Restaurant Employees' International Alliance and Bartenders' International League," at its recent convention in Rochester, N. Y., directing that no charter be granted hereafter in any city to the colored bartenders in the states of Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma and Indian Territory, unless by permission of a majority of the locals.

Commenting on the same subject, The Springfield (Mass.) Republican says:

The role is but a slight modification of the old Mason and Dixon's line—the dear old times of slavery are coming back, sure enough, when lines of social equality are drawn by waiters, porters and bartenders. By and by we shall have leagues of newsboys, bootblacks and street-sweepers passing regulations of taboo. This wicked folly has got to stop somewhere. The bartenders, however, passed another resolution, that no bartender with a strain of color shall be permitted to work in any of the states aforementioned. This is designed to clear out the buffets of railroads for the benefit of white men. Travelers have had much to say about the lordliness of negro porters and waiters on the Pullman cars—but wait until the ordinary white men in these lines supplant them, and the whole traveling public will rebel.

The people of the south are watching with interest the development of this northern tendency to taboo and proscribe negroes by labor organizations. In all probability the action of the organization in question, taken in national convention at Rochester, N. Y., was the direct result not only of northern example, but instigated and accomplished by the preponderant influence and vote of the northern and western delegates to the convention.

The south today offers the only hope of the negro in the direction of honest employment. Let him be ever so well equipped as an artisan or for any manual pursuit—let him be a graduate of Booker Washington's Tuskegee institute—and the north, which is willing to endow Tuskegee and pat Washington on the back, will make of the negro who ventures within her borders for employment a hopeless and homeless proletarian, denying him anything but the most menial employment, and rarely even that. There is no color line more inflexible than that drawn by the northern workingman against the negro workman, as is well known, and the instances are many where attempts to relax it have resulted in mob violence, intimidation and boycotting. This fact accounts for the comparatively small number of negroes resident in the northern states today. It is certain that had the people of the north given negro immigrants employment without color discrimination after the war, the colored population of the union would today be pretty well distributed, for it was the post-bellum inclination of the negro to emigrate north.

The south has retained its large negro population because it has been willing to give the negro a show for his daily bread—yes, and for his life—by refusing to draw the color line against his labor. Here he can work on an equality of wages and business treatment with the white worker, and southern unions do not hesitate to include him in their organization. The negro would be in a deplorable condition indeed were it not for this tolerance and justice on the part of southern employers and southern unionists.

Perhaps The Duluth News-Tribune and The Springfield Republican never thought of these phases of the negro labor question.

Coming to Atlanta.

The National Association of Manufacturers is to be congratulated upon its decision to hold its next annual meeting in Atlanta. By coming to the chief city of the southern states, this organization will demonstrate its national character more clearly than it could have done in any other way, and Atlanta is glad for the association, as well as for itself.

That these representative business men will be given hearty welcome is as certain as that they and their organization will be benefited by coming south. Already many of the leading southern manufacturers hold membership in the association, but it is safe to predict that there will be a substantial increase of membership from this section as the result of next year's convention.

The thanks of Atlanta are certainly due to the members of the committee which went to Pittsburg to extend the city's invitation. Dispatches from the great manufacturing metropolis of Pennsylvania tell of the prompt acceptance of the invitation thus extended, and particularly of the enthusiasm over the eloquent address of Hon. John Temple Graves, who, at the request of Mayor Howell and the chamber of commerce, acted as spokesman. The south has no more forceful and eloquent orator than Colonel Graves. His address upon this occasion charmed and captured the usually unemotional business men, sweeping away every vestige of opposition until there was unanimous indorsement of the cause he represented. Not a vote was cast against Atlanta, though a number of other prominent cities were aspirants for the distinction.

It is needless to say that the American manufacturers will be just as unanimous in their praise, and even more enthusiastic in their admiration, of Atlanta after they have been here and seen for themselves. All that Colonel Graves has promised will be realized, and more.

ON THE EDITORIAL PAGE
HENRY WATTERSON TALKS

WORLD'S Fair Grounds, St. Louis, May 19.—The National Editorial Association held its final sessions today. The forenoon session was devoted to addresses and the afternoon session was devoted to addresses, the election of officers and completion of routine business.

Colonel Henry Watterson, of Louisville, was introduced. Colonel Watterson took for his topic "The Editorial Page," and spoke in part as follows:

Every profession may be said to have its mice and its men; inevitably more mice than men.

There is the mousing politician with his confusion of the little and the big in public affairs, a great man, as Jefferson said of Burr, in small things; a small man in great ones, seeking the bubble reputation e'en at the barrel's bung, and, along with it, the wherewithal to pay for the dance. There is the mousing man of letters, who has drunk not deep of the Perrennian spring, but top-heavy with his critical fads, his fancied originality, his spites and envies, rattling around in borrowed plumage and playing hide-and-seek through a few half-vacant chambers, chiefly furnished with stolen goods. And then—let us confess it—there is the mousing journalist, whose wares are mostly second-hand, who imports his wit and manufactures his news, affecting Jove's thunder in the tum-tum of a finger bowl in case he happens to be acquainted with that homely utensil. The antitheses to these several discreditable, though not always disreputable persons, are the public man of integrity and judgment, who is not afraid to do right; the literary man, who, possessed of some knowledge of the world of life and thought as well as of books, is not so cocksure of himself and his opinions, nor so free with his resentments, and the newspaper writer, who can give and take without brutality, or malice, and who, no matter how bellicose, brings to the combat clean hands and a little accuracy both of information and statement.

In making this brief resume I hope that no one of you will consider me needlessly aggressive or personally offensive.

Primarily, the daily newspaper is the history of yesterday. If it should perform this function simply, having no other end in view, its value to the community would be priceless. Intelligent readers, entrusted with the facts and unhindered by pressure, could read their own conclusions. But, as a rule, the daily newspaper accepts no such limitation. It sets up for a teacher as well as a historian. It would influence—"mold," I believe is the word—public opinion; yet it is not always the public—too often it is some private interest, which colors its narrative and shapes its oracles, fitting the one into the other, without that sense of accountability of God and truth which ought to lie at the bottom of every man's heart and which does lie at the bottom of every good man's heart. We read now and again that So-and-So "takes himself too seriously," as if levity were a merit, whilst, pursuing the like whimsical conceit, that which is merely pert, is too often mistaken for wit.

The editorial page is valuable in the degree that it aids the reader to digest the news. It should either be reformed or abandoned. Under a certain spell which has crept upon the modern newspaper it is becoming, if it has not already become, a rather useless appendage—not even ornamental—reminding one of those clusters of artificial flowers which at the more pretentious railway eating houses are supposed to decorate the tables and to deceive the wayfarer. Yet ought the editorial page after the exhilaration—the distractions and excitements—of the news pages, to be a raised dais in the center of a great hall, a seat of rest and charm; an elevation from which to survey the passing show, having its lights adjusted the better to set forth this passing show, and its ready chorus to explain it.

Disinterestedness being the soul, good humor is the solar system of the editorial page, which should be held subject to these precepts:

Write of a man nothing you would not say to his face, and might not say in the hearing of decent people.

Avoid equally intimation and intimidation, making no suggestion you are not prepared to reduce to assertion and to sustain with proof.

The "leading article," being the rationale of the most important and interesting piece of the day's news, should have a beginning, a middle and an end; should be concise and incisive; seeking to assist the reader in his effort to comprehend the situation.

Satire should keep within the bounds of the probable; wit under the restraints of sense; and even invective—shorn of adjective and adverb, and stripped to the waist—should strike out from the shoulder to hit only above the belt.

The pert paragraph should be allowed to die a natural death, no flowers.

The editorial page thus conceived and executed, thus inspired and partitioned, could not fail to impress itself upon the thought of the time, at once a power and a feature, an arm of the service and a commercial asset.

Under the rule of a supervision wholly adequate it would soon rival the news departments in point of popular consideration and interest. One single editorial embodying the qualities outlined and appearing each day of the year, would come to be sought by intelligent readers as an essential part of their morning paper; how much more a page covering the entire range of the day's doings, dealing with each topic according to its quantum and its kind, "from gay to grave, from lively to severe."

Except it be thus delivered, the editorial page were best extinguished. To set apart a certain number of columns for the equivocal dignity of large type; to fill these columns with perfunctory matter; with matter as lifeless as dolls stuffed with sawdust; equally wanting the elements of conviction and continuity; one thing today, another tomorrow; unirradiated by any gleam of light, undiversified, even by a trick of fancy, uniform only in dullness, is to disfigure the page, to degrade the editorial. But directed and made up by a man of intelligence, not necessarily what is called an able or a brilliant man—merely a man of sound understanding, constant and conscientious in his work, upright and elevated in his purpose, having a sufficient knowledge of affairs, an honest heart and a level head—the good of such an adjunct of the daily news—such an index to the history of yesterday—were incalculable; and, though it lead to a personal journalism somewhat discredited of late, it will at least embody a responsible journalism; much to be preferred to prevailing tendencies, which, indeed, as all of us should agree, were better honored in the breach than the observance.

What of life's tempests—
The wrath and the wrong?
It's light time and love time,
And life is a song.
Though thick on the life-way
The red thorns may throng,
Light time that's love time,
Makes all life a song!

What of the sorrow
That comes in a sigh?
Dear! it is light time—
The dark shadows fly!
Sweet sing the valleys—
The high hills and strong:
"Light time is love time
And life is a song!"

NEGRESS WOULDN'T BE QUIET

A Short Stay in tthe Police Dungeon Proved Effective, However.

Hattie Foster, a negress, of 23 Kiley street, created a small sized riot in the recorder's court room yesterday afternoon after she had been ordered arrested by Judge Boyles on a charge of contempt of court. She fought, cursed, kicked and bit Officer Doyal and had to be dragged from the court room and placed in a dungeon before she was quieted.

Albert Foster, a son of the woman, was arrested Wednesday afternoon by Call Officer Jones and charged with stealing a ham. The mother attended court yesterday to hear the case, and while in the audience she insisted on telling the story of the arrest of her son to every one in the vicinity. When the woman was ordered to keep quiet she refused to do so, saying she had a right to talk. Judge Broyles ordered a case made against her and Officer Doyal placed her in the detention room to await a hearing.

While awaiting a hearing the woman started screaming, and when her case was called she ran into the court room crying at the top of her voice that she had been abused and mistreated and calling on the negroes present to help her out.

As the woman refused to stop her noise and kept up a tirade of abuse against the officer, the judge ordered her taken below and placed in a dungeon until she became quiet. All of the way down stairs she fought, bit and scratched and created a scene. Even after she was locked in a dark cell the woman continued her screaming. The case will be heard this morning.

Food Commission Completes Work.

New York, May 19.—After sessions covering one week the special committee appointed by congress to fix standards for pure foods has completed its work here. At the final sitting five different food products were discussed—grape and fruit juices, evaporated fruits, teas, champagnes and olive oils. In the course of the sessions here the chemists from all over the country appeared and offered suggestions.

IN THE FIELD OF POLITICS

"As at present advised we favor Judge Parker."

This, briefly put, is the position of the South Carolina delegates to the St. Louis convention. Senator Tillman, who heads the delegation with Governor Clinch Heyward, went a little more into detail—according to the press reports from Columbia—saying that Judge Parker was not objectionable to him, but he could not tell how he would vote because conditions might change in a night.

In other words, as between Parker and Hearst all of the South Carolinans are for Parker. The state convention recognized the possibility that conditions may change between now and July 6, however, and adopted no resolutions of instructions, being satisfied with adopting the unit rule to insure South Carolina presenting an harmonious and united front.

South Carolina and Wisconsin may be lined up as offsetting California, where Hearst instructions were adopted after a hard struggle and by a very close margin. It is difficult to see how, in the light of their narrow escape, the Hearst managers can figure out any very great victory in that California result, since it was generally assumed their candidate would have a walkover in the state of his birth and where he has long had very large interests. Coincident with this San Francisco action, there came advices from Illinois which seem to indicate a falling off in the Hearst strength there where Carter Harrison and some of Mr. Hearst's other opponents have been conceding things to him. However, it is not safe to count on that state one way or another until the convention acts—so many are the wheels within wheels, and of such variety are the conflicting local interests.

With the results of the conventions held this week, the table of instructed and uninstructed delegates makes the following interesting showing of the states in which state conventions have been held:

States.	Parker.	Hearst.	Olney.	Wall.	Unin.
California	20	....	....	....	....

Total	122	77	32	26	182

This table does not include some scattering districts in Ohio and Maine, which, according to party usage in those states, have acted in advance of the state conventions. As there are some differences in the newspaper reports concerning the action in those districts it is perhaps better to omit them until after the state conventions have been held and the complexion of the entire delegation, in each case, determined. So far as claims go, the net result in those districts seems to be about a stand off as between Hearst and Parker.

Should the final test of strength be between Parker and Hearst, as many people believe it will be, and as is certainly not unlikely, there can be no question but the very great majority o fthe votes now in the "uninstructed" column would be cast for Judge Parker. That is also true of the Olney and Wall votes. Hearst might have a majority in the Kansas, Oregon and Washington delegations, which, assuming the unit rule to govern in those delegations, would give him a total of thirty-eight of the uninstructed delegates. But Judge Parker would, under such conditions, get the rest of those votes—that is, 202. The totals, assuming a division of the vote to date between these two candidates, would be:

Parker.. 324
Hearst.. 115

The decision of the New York state committee that James T. Woodward, Harry Payne Whitney and Isadore Strauss should be dropped from the list of nominees for electors and their places filled by others will serve to point out to other states the necessity of exercising care in the make-up of this portion of their tickets.

The first section of article 2, of the constitution of the United States, provides that—

"No senator or representative or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States shall be appointed an elector."

The question has several times been raised whether a director in a national bank holds "an office of trust or profit under the United States." After the report of the committee named to select delegates to the national convention and electors had been formulated at Albany, the possibility of Messrs. Woodward, Whitney and Strauss being ineligible was raised, and the state committee was, accordingly, authorized to make any changes in the list of electors that might be found necessary. After investigation, a subcommittee appointed by Chairman Meyer has recommended that as these three gentlemen may be ineligible under the constitution, it will be best to put other names on the ticket in their place.

To the lay mind this looks like a very fine-haired question—but, of course, it is necessary to be on the safe side. If Georgia, for instance, were to select an officer of a national bank as one of its thirteen electors, he might be found ineligible to serve and that vote in the electoral college would either be lost or go to his republican opponent.

Samuel A. Cook, of Neenah, sticks his head above the political horizon demanding national attention. With a handful of supporters, he holds the balance of power in that sensational contest in which the republicans of Wisconsin are engaged.

Governor LaFollette—who leads an independent wing of Wisconsin republicanism and who is denounced by the old-line republicans as socialist, anarchist, tariff-reformer, democrat and everything else that in their opinion is bad—is trying to make himself governor for a third term. He is bitterly opposed by the "stalwart" wing under the leadership of Senator Spooner, Senator Quarles, Congressman Babcock and other prominent figures in the politics of the state, most of whom are supporting the candidacy of Judge Emil Baensch, of Manitowoc. LaFollette, who controls the state committee, has unseated enough stalwart delegates to give him a majority in the convention, and there is a wide-open split.

Both sides need Cook's votes.

He hasn't many, but it looks as if neither LaFollette nor Baensch could command the strength necessary to give his nomination standing in the courts unless he gets this Cook support. Cook belongs to the stalwart wing and joins in the denunciation of the LaFollette methods; at the same time, he blandly informs the Baensch men that their only chance for victory lies in throwing their support to him.

Sam Cook is a manufacturer and farmer, has been mayor of Neenah (5,954 inhabitants), member of the legislature, member of congress for one term, and candidate for the United States senate in 1898, receiving the second highest number of votes. Baensch has been justice of the peace, city clerk, county judge and lieutenant governor. LaFollette has been the "whole thing" in the republican party of Wisconsin for several years, and intends to remain it. President Roosevelt at one time developed a violent liking for him and expressed a desire to have him as running mate, but Spooner promptly grabbed the Rough Rider and has succeeded in keeping him quiet.

Why aren't these warring republicans making a vice presidential candidate for the democrats? In the face of this split, it will need but little encouragement for the Wisconsin democrats to carry that state. They did carry it in 1890, when Edward C. Wall, who is now their choice for president, was state chairman. Why wouldn't Wall or Mayor David S. Rose, of Milwaukee, make an excellent vice presidential candidate?

Elmer Jacob Burkett, whom the republicans of Nebraska have made their candidate for the United States senate, owes the distinction largely to his having carried William J. Bryan's congressional district in 1898. He has represented that district in congress ever since. Burkett lives at Lincoln, is 37 years old, started out as a school teacher and has practiced law since 1893. He will succeed Senator Dietrich.

DELEGATES WERE ELECTED.

Printers of Atlanta Select Delegates for Both the State and International Conventions.

Delegates to both the international convention of the International Typographical Union, which is to be held in St. Louis in August, and to the State Federation of Labor, which will be held in Rome, Ga., in June, were elected last Wednesday by the Atlanta Typographical Union.

R. O. Ross, of The Constitution chapel, and R. F. McCormack, of The Journal chapel, were elected delegates to the international convention, while E. E. Griggs, of The Constitution chapel, and W. H. Grant, of the Franklin chapel, were elected alternates.

To the meeting of the state federation in June, L. P. Huddleston, of The News chapel; Ed L. Sutton, of The Journal chapel; W. S. Wier and Jerome Jones, both of The Journal of Labor chapel, were elected delegates.

Votes were also polled for international officers and resulted as follows: James M. Lynch, of Syracuse, president; John W. Hayes, Minneapolis, vice president; John W. Bramwood, Denver, secretary-treasurer.

For delegates to the American Federation of Labor, Max S. Hayes, Cleveland, led the ticket, with W. M. Garrett, Washington, and Frank Morrison associates.

Thomas F. Crowley, Cincinnati, and Thomas McCafferty received the highest vote for trustees of the printers' home.

Lumbermen at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, May 19.—The National Hardwood Lumber Association met here today in its seventh annual convention for a two days' session with over 300 members present. The forenoon was devoted to the hearing of the reports of the officers and references of the same to committee. In the afternoon the subject of uniform inspection, the main question before the convention, was under consideration with representatives from different lumber centers and a general discussion was had.

NO MOTION TO RECONSIDER.

Aldermanic Board Did Not Take Action Upon Probation System Yesterday Afternoon.

Because of the absence of Alderman John H. Harwell, who went to Pittsburg to aid in bringing the National Association of Manufacturers to Atlanta, no motion was made during the session of the aldermanic board yesterday afternoon to reconsider the non-concurrence of the previous meeting in the measure which appropriated $1,200 for the construction of detention wards for juveniles at the police barracks. The aldermen decided to permit Alderman Harwell to make his motion during the next regular meeting.

From remarks made by Alderman Inman and Woodward, it appears that they are not as active as they were formerly against making the appropriation. It may be that the measure will be voted for by them during the next session, in which event the motion of Alderman Harwell to reconsider the adverse action will be adopted.

The aldermen concurred in the resolution which appropriated $99.50 for the purpose of paying the expenses of City Electrician T. J. Harper to the Boston electrical convention. The city electrician left last night for the convention.

Revival at Barnesville.

Barnesville, Ga., May 19.—(Special.)—A series of revival services are being held at the Baptist church this week and a great deal of interest has been manifested. Rev. C. W. Durden is being assisted by Rev. H. P. Jackson, of Montezuma, who has preached some able sermons and made a very favorable impression on his congregations. The services are held morning and evening at the usual hours. The meeting began Sunday and a number of accessions to the church have taken place. Everybody is invited to attend and it is hoped that great good will be done during the revival.

ASK CITY TO BUY PIEDMONT PARK

Mass Meeting of Citizens Took Action Yesterday Morning.

Mayor Howell Opposed Movement on Ground of City's Indebtedness Believing North Atlantans Should Come In and Help Bear Burden.

By a unanimous vote the mass meeting of citizens held in the council chamber yesterday passed resolutions offered by W. L. Peel calling on council to purchase Piedmont park for the city of Atlanta.

A committee of three, Dr. R. D. Spalding, W. L. Peel and J. K. Orr, was appointed to convey this action to council.

The resolutions were passed over the protest of Mayor Howell, chairman of the meeting, who declared himself opposed to the purchase of this property unless the thickly settled territory to the north of the city and adjacent to the park should be at the same time incorporated as a part of Atlanta.

"Atlanta already owes $211,961.50 over its bonded debt," said the mayor, "and this exceeds our constitutional privileges in the way of incurring debts. If we keep on going deeper into debt there is one inevitable end—a 2 per cent tax rate.

"The city could be stopped by any taxpayer from incurring further indebtedness and if we attempt it somebody is going to seek an injunction. Nothing could be so harmful to the city as an increase in the tax rate to 2 per cent.

"I would favor purchasing the park if that part of the town lying around it was incorporated into the city. I would be willing to appropriate the tax from that section to the maintainance of the park. But on any other basis I am opposed to it."

Alex Smith replied to Mayor Howell by saying that the two propositions, that of incorporating this territory and the purchase of the park were separate and distinct and not dependant on each other.

"The influence of the city of Atlanta is greater than that of any citizen or body of citizens with the legislature of the state," said Mr. Smith, "and any time Atlanta wants to she can go before the legislature and have that territory incorporated into the city. This could be done on the ground of sanitary protection and for other reasons, and no committee of the legislature would consider a protest from any citizen affected."

With the exception of the remarks made by Mayor Howell every one who spoke was enthusiastically in favor of the purchase of the park.

Several Talks Made.

Ed Ansley said the city could not afford to let the opportunity pass.

"It is the spirit among the citizens of Atlanta hanging together whenever the interests of the city were at stake that has made Atlanta," said Mr. Ansley. "I'm sure that now the same spirit will prevail and the park will be bought. I will subscribe $100 to start the fund."

"There's $100," remarked Mayor Howell. "The city will now have to pay only $98.900 for the park."

Dr. H. L. Wilson said that Piedmont park was the only available real estate for park purposes nearer than Buckhead, and that with the improvements already there the city could not afford not to buy it at the terms offered.

E. C. Peters called attention to the widening of Whitehall street, the construction of the different viaducts and other improvements made by the city.

"A great deal of money has been spent," said he, "on things that are not assets of the city. But Piedmont park is an asset on which cash can be realized at any time."

J. K. Orr told of seeing blocks of valuable houses torn down in New York that the land might be made into a park.

"I used to hunt and fish on that same territory when I was a boy," said he, "and the city could then have bought it for a mere song. But the opportunity was allowed to pass and now it has cost an enormous sum of money to make the park."

R. F. Maddox, president of the chamber of commerce, said he thought that the residents of the north side, especially the laboring people who live on the north side of the railroads, should be given a park, as well as those on the south side.

Dr. R. D. Spalding said that three buildings, the government building, the manufactures building and the liberal arts building, had cost all that was now asked for the whole property, and that as a business proposition the city could do nothing but purchase the property at the price offered.

Mr. Peel then offered his resolution.

"I move," said he, "that we declare it to be the sense of this meeting that council purchase Piedmont park."

Mayor Howell asked the privilege of addressing the meeting before putting the motion, whereupon he expressed himself as before stated. The motion was then put and unanimously adopted, after which the committee was appointed

TAXES OF PARISH TO BE CONTINUED

Sliding Scale for Georgia Diocese To Remain.

"Marginal Value of a Dollar" Comes Up for Discussion at Diocesan Convention — Election of Officers and Members of Committees.

The matter of taxation for the defraying of diocesan expenses was brought up at yesterday's session of the convention of the diocese of Georgia held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. At present the parishes of the diocese are taxed upon the principal of a sliding scale, that is the richer parishes are taxed a heavier amount than are those not so favored in this world's goods. The motion was made to fix this taxation at a certain amount for each and every parish on the ground of "equalization of taxes."

This immediately brought about a discussion as to what really constituted equity of taxation. Was a taxation of the same sum on both the rich and the poor parishes really equalization of taxation? The subject was finally referred to Professor McPherson, who occupies the chair of political economy in the University of Georgia. In response, Professor McPherson said that what was called the "marginal value of a dollar" must be taken into account in the equalizing of taxes. He illustrated by saying that while the man on a small salary might be taxed $5 for a certain purpose, this taxation would necessitate taking certain foods from his table, while to the man on a large salary it would mean nothing, or at most simply the curtailing of some superfluous luxury.

For which reasons the sliding scale was in reality the equality plan of taxation. Evidently the convention felt the same way about the matter, for it was decided to retain the present sliding scale for the meeting of the diocesan expenses by a very large vote.

A large part of both the morning and afternoon sessions was devoted to the election of officers and the members of the various standing committees. This matter of election was considerably delayed on account of many who were nominated withdrawing their names from the contest. The remark of one member that "new blood" ought to be infused into the membership of some of the committees and boards was responsible for several of these withdrawals. This remark also brought about considerable discussion as to what was meant in the term of "new blood."

Too Many Votes.

Rather an amusing incident relieved the monotony of the election of members of the standing committee. When the tellers handed their report of the election to Bishop Nelson, the presiding officer, that worthy gentleman found the total vote was considerably in excess of the number of delegates in the convention privileged to vote. While the mistake was purely clerical in its nature, Bishop Nelson commented on the matter in a humorous vein and intimating that "equal suffrage" was the occasion of such a large total, remarked that while the convention was most happy to have the ladies present, the canons of the church prohibited their taking any active part in the voting.

The matter of using the English and American revised versions of the Bible in the reading of the lessons at the regular church services was referred to a committee composed of Rev. Dr. C. B. Wilmer, of Atlanta; Rev. Dr. C. T. A. Pise, of Marietta; Rev. Dr. John S. Lightbourn, of Cedartown, for the clergy, and Messrs. Harrold, of Americus; White, of Athens, and Hansell, of Atlanta, for the laity.

Bishop Nelson appointed Rev. Dr. A. W. Knight, dean of the cathedral, and Rev. C. T. A. Pise, of Marietta, examining chaplains for the archdeaconry of Atlanta.

The balloting yesterday resulted in the election of the following officers and committeemen:

Standing Committee—Rev. A. W. Knight and Rev. C. B. Wilmer, of Atlanta; Rev. C. T. A. Pise, of Marietta; William K. Miller, of Augusta; Z. D. Harrison, of Atlanta, and H. C. Cunningham, of Savannah.

Treasurer of the Diocese—William K. Miller, of Augusta.

Treasurer of Diocesan Missions—R. C. DeSaussure, of Atlanta.

Registrar of the Diocese—William N. Hawkes, of Atlanta.

Chancellor of the Diocese—Frank H. Miller, of Augusta.

Board of Missions—Clerical members, Rev. Troy Beatty, of Athens; Rev. Dr. Northrop, of Macon, and Rev. C. T. A. Pise, of Marietta; lay members, Judge H. L. Parry and W. N. Hawkes, of Atlanta, and W. N. Toomer, of Waycross.

Trustees of the Appleton Church Home at Macon—Rev. C. C. Williams, D.D.; Frank H. Miller, Dr. Charles H. Hall and Robert H. Plant.

Evening Session.

The entire time of the evening session was occupied in the balloting for the deputies to the general convention in Boston. There was much interest in this election and a number of ballots were taken before the tellers announced the required majority for those chosen to represent the diocese of Georgia at the general convention.

The election resulted as follows: Rev. A. W. Knight, dean of the cathedral in Atlanta; Rev. Troy Beatty, Athens; Rev. C. C. Williams, D.D., Augusta, and Rev. Robb White, of Savannah, for the clergy. For the laity, Frank H. Miller, Augusta; Z. D. Harrison, Atlanta; H. C. White, Athens, and H. C. Cunningham, Savannah, were chosen.

The morning session of the convention will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

STATE GOSSIP CAUGHT IN CAPITOL CORRIDORS

CHAIRMAN JOE HILL HALL and his investigating committee are gathering some interesting information around the capitol with a view to making a report to the legislature at its coming session regarding the status and methods employed by the various state departments.

Chairman Hall has a little book in which he has noted down all the laws pertaining to each department and the duties which are required of the respective officials. He has right before him, therefore, an account of just what books the comptroller general, the governor, the secretary of state and all the other state house officials are required to keep, just what records they must have and what papers they must keep on file. In visiting the various departments Chairman Hall and his committee have inquired into all these particulars, and upon them will base some recommendations to the general assembly next month.

Comptroller General Wright was asked, for instance, if he kept a book in which he maintained an account with each appropriation made by the legislature. He immediately produced this record, and all other books which he is required by law to keep. The comptroller general when he first went into office posted himself on the duties which the law required of him, and he showed every record called for, and that it had been regularly kept since he went into office. Captain W. H. Harrison is the bookkeeper for the state, and every item of income or expense goes on his books. It may seem almost impossible that one man should do all of the bookkeeping for the state of Georgia, yet he manages to do it.

Chairman Hall discussed the question of a state auditor with Comptroller General Wright. With his duties properly defined, the comptroller general thought such an officer could do a great deal of good.

Comptroller General Wright said he had no way of keeping a check on tax collectors when it came to property not on the digests, though he had no difficulty in keeping up with all that the digests called for. A bill was proposed several years ago providing that the comptroller general should have the authority to go into any county and check up the books of any tax collector, when he might deem it necessary to do so. Some member of the legislature who was occupying an office in the court house went before the committee and objected to this bill on the ground that it merely provided for junketing trips for the comptroller general at the expense of the state. That was the last heard of the measure.

When asked as to the need for a constitutional convention, Comptroller General Wright said he thought it was necessary. He thought the result would, no doubt, be the same as in the case of the last one, when the delegates came to Atlanta and spent three weeks without being able to get together on any important matters. They finally wound up by proposing a few amendments to the old constitution of the state, and let it go at that. The comptroller general thought that the present method of amending the constitution would answer every requirement.

Up to the Forty-third?

They are having an interesting squabble over the senatorship from the forty-third district, recently vacated by W. F. Dodd, who has gone to serve a sentence of two years at the state prison farm.

It is Gordon's privilege to furnish the senator for the unexpired term, of course, and according to a well-known citizen of that county, there are plenty of men who are ready and willing to serve the district in the senate this summer, but they want to get the place without a fight for it.

The three men whose names are most prominently mentioned in connection with the place are F. A. Cantrell, chairman of the county executive committee, O. N. Starr, who was an unsuccessful candidate for solicitor general of the Cherokee circuit, and J. C. Harkins. Mr. Cantrell has never held any political office, and it is said he and his friends consider that he is entitled to some recognition. Therefore they think that Mr. Starr and Mr. Harkins should gracefully get out of the way and let him come to the senate for the unexpired term.

Then it is stated that Mr. Starr and his friends feel that in view of the fact he was defeated by Solicitor General S. P. Maddox after a hard fight, he should at least have the remainder of the senatorship term. Mr. Harkins, the informant states, also lays his claim to the senatorship to party services, he also having made an unsuccessful race or two.

Thus the matter stands with each of these three would-be candidates feeling that the two others should withdraw and give him a clear field. The election is to take place on June 11.

"It will probably go along this way until about the time of the election," said the Gordon county man, "and then all of the candidates will jump in and make a hard race for the office."

Board of Lady Visitors.

In accordance with the terms of the act of general assembly, approved September 11, 1891, providing for the appointment of a board of visitors to the Georgia Normal and Industrial college, Governor Terrell yesterday appointed the following board of visitors for the terms and districts respectively mentioned in connection with their names:

For a term of three years from September 29, 1901: Mrs. John E. Donaldson, Bainbridge, third congressional district; Miss Nannaline Myrick, Dovedale, sixth congressional district; Mrs. J. N. Griffin, Valdosta, eleventh congressional district.

For a term of three years from September 29, 1902: Mrs. Edgar Simmons, Americus, third congressional district; Miss Nana Hornady, Atlanta, fifth congressional district; Mrs. D. S. Moseley, Rome, seventh congressional district; Miss Bessie Butler, Madison, eighth congressional district.

For a term of three years from September 29, 1903: Mrs. Robert M. Hitch, Savannah, first congressional district; Mrs. W. Y. Atkinson, Newnan, fourth congressional district; Miss Mattie Bass, Clarkesville, ninth congressional district; Miss Neppie Hunt, Sparta, tenth congressional district.

Will Take Cavalry.

Colonel Peter W. Meldrim, commanding the First regiment cavalry, Georgia state troops, yesterday notified Adjutant General S. W. Harris that he would be prepared to take one squadron of cavalry, four troops to the fall maneuvers of the United States army at Manassas, Va.

With Colonel Meldrim's reply all of the commanding officers of state troops have been heard from. This makes a total of forty-one organizations which are desirous of attending the maneuvers, and with a minimum of fifty men to the company this means a total of at least 2,050 men.

Georgia's present quota is only 1,500 for the two full weeks, but this will, no doubt, be increased. The Fourth regiment infantry, which will take twelve companies, only desires to go for the first week. The other companies expect to remain for the full two weeks, according to present advices.

To the Eclectic Board.

Governor Terrell yesterday appointed Dr. J. F. Owens, of Hahira, Lowndes county, a member of the state board of eclectic medical examiners to fill the unexpired term of Dr. M. T. Johnson of Gwinnett county. Dr. J. F. Harris, of Thomas county, was first appointed to fill this vacancy, but declined the appointment.

To Andersonville.

Governor Terrell has ordered company L, Fourth infantry, located at Americus, to go to Andersonville on May 30, federal Decoration day, to preserve order. It has been customary for several years to send one company of troops to Andersonville on this occasion to keep order among the many negroes and excursionists who generally assemble there.

Candidates for Legislature.

Hon. William Butt, one of the leading attorneys of Blue Ridge, spent the day in Atlanta yesterday, returning from the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias at Albany, where he took a prominent part in the deliberations of the convention. Mr. Butt is a candidate for the legislature from Fannin county and his friends express the utmost confidence in his election.

Colonel J. M. Smith's Candidacy.

Hon. David W. Meadow, solicitor general of the northern circuit, was in Atlanta yesterday in attendance on the supreme court.

Colonel Meadow is one of the most prominent lawyers of northeast Georgia, and has for a long time been an active factor, not only in his district, but in state politics. At the present time he is taking deep interest in the candidacy of Colonel James M. Smith for delegate from the state at large to the national democratic convention, in speaking of which Colonel Meadow says:

"Colonel James M. Smith is one of the largest and most successful farmers in Georgia. He is well qualified to fill the position as delegate from the state at large. He has served many years in the legislature of Georgia, both as a member of the house and the senate; has been a delegate to many democratic state conventions; was at one time permanent chairman of the judicial convention which nominated judges for the supreme court; was one of the delegates from the state at large to the national democratic convention at Chicago in 1892; was for a long while a member of the state democratic executive committee from the eighth congressional district. In 1892 he canvassed the state of Georgia and delivered many able and effective speeches in various parts of the state in behalf of the state and national democracy. It is hard to estimate the amount of good he has done his state during his long, eventful and successful career. It has grown to be the custom in Georgia to give to the farmers one delegate from the state at large. I am pretty well posted and can say that the people in all sections of the state would like to have Colonel James M. Smith as one of the delegates from the state at large. I hardly think any fight will be made upon him. I am informed that all the counties in the eighth congressional district will support him."

FESTIVAL OF SH' VOTH TODAY.

Jewish Feast of Weeks Celebrated in Atlanta Synagogues.

The Jewish festival, "Sh' Voth," or Feast of Weeks, will be celebrated at both the Atlanta synagogues today. This festival is the anniversary of the giving of the Ten Commandments to Moses.

It is called the Feast of Weeks, because its celebration is held a certain number of weeks after the Feast of the Passover. The latter is the celebration of the passage of the children of Israel out of the physical bondage of the Egyptians and the Feast of Weeks is the celebration of the attainment of moral freedom under divine law.

At the Jewish temple, corner of Pryor and Richardson streets, the festival will be celebrated by Rabbi David Marx, the day being always celebrated by confirmation services. Dr. Marx will deliver a special sermon and a class of eleven children will be confirmed.

Professor J. Fowler Richardson, who is in charge of the music at the temple, has prepared a very fine programme for these services, which will be unusually interesting and impressive.

At the synagogue of the orthodox congregation, Ahaveth Achim, on Gilmer street, the festival will be celebrated also, and a class of children confirmed by the rabbi, Dr. M. Mayerovitch.

TO FILE ANSWER IN THIRTY DAYS

Hearing of Atlanta's Complaint on Rates Is Concluded.

Reductions Are Asked for Between Atlanta and the Ports—Adjustment of Interstate Rates Wanted—Roads To Reply on June 21.

The hearing of Atlanta's complaint against the railroads on account of unjust discriminations in freight rates was concluded before the state railroad commission yesterday morning with arguments presented both by the railroad men and by counsel for the Atlanta freight bureau which lodged the complaint.

At the conclusion of these arguments the railroads asked for time in which to file their answer to the various complaints that had been made. T. N. Powell, of the Southern, said that questions had been presented which it would require months to investigate and to answer properly. W. A. Wimbish, counsel for the Atlanta freight bureau, objected to such delay, and asked for early action, particularly with regard to the petition he filed for reductions in intra-state rates. It was finally agreed that the railroads should have thirty days within which to file their answer, and the railroad commission will meet again on June 21 for the purpose of receiving it. In the meantime the commission will take up and determine the petition of the Atlanta bureau with regard to rates within the state over which it has exclusive jurisdiction.

In the petition which Mr. Wimbush filed he asked on behalf of the Atlanta freight bureau that the rates between Atlanta and Savannah and between Atlanta and Brunswick, and in the reverse directions, be established in accordance with the following scale:

On first-class matter, 50 cents per hundred; on second-class, 40 cents; on third-class, 31 cents; on fourth-class, 26 cents; on fifth-class, 20 cents; on sixth-class, 15 cents; on A class, 13 cents; on B class, 13 cents; on C class, 13 cents; on D class, 11 cents; on E class, 22 cents; on H class, 23 cents; on F class, 22 cents per barrel.

The petition further requested that the following commodity rates be fixed between the points named:

On baking powder in car load lots, 25 cents per hundred pounds; on less than car loads, 30 cents.

On brooms in car load lots, 22 cents per hundred pounds; on less than car load lots, 32 cents.

On canned goods in car load lots, 20 cents per hundred pounds; on less than car load lots, 33 cents per hundred.

On food preparations, not otherwise specified, 15 cents per hundred pounds.

On iron articles, special, as ennumerated in list of classification, any quantity, 10 cents per hundred pounds.

On molasses and sirup, including glucose sirup, owners' risk at leakage, in wood or in tin cans, any quantity, 15 censt per hundred pounds.

Adjustment All Around.

In conclusion the petition filed by Mr. Wimbish asks:

"That in the event the commission should be of the opinion that any change in the existing rates as requested would require a readjustment of other rates to and from points within the state of Georgia, that the schedule of intra-state rates promulgated by this commission be so revised and changed as to establish a just and equitable relation of rates.

"That the commission will declare that unjust discriminations exist against Atlanta in favor of competing cities in other states, and will urge upon the railway companies the making of such changes and revisions as will place Atlanta in the matter of freight rates upon substantial equality with such competing cities in the matter of rates, so that the combination through Atlanta to the points of delivery in competitive territory may be equalized; and that in default of a satisfactory readjustment on the part of the railway companies within sixty days, this honorable commission will institute complaint before the interstate commerce commission."

In connection with this petition Mr. Powell, of the Southern, wanted to know if the reductions in rates between the points asked, would also necessitate reductions in the rates to intermediate points. He asked also that the commission would rule on this question in making its findings.

The Argument.

The argument in behalf of the railroads was opened by T. M. Cunningham, Jr., of counsel for the Central of Georgia Railway Company. Mr. Cunningham said that there was an air of mystery about Atlanta's complaint, as the railroad men viewed it, and that the testimony given had failed to dispel the mystification. The railroad men, he said, felt as if they had been invited to fight a duel in the dark, and they did not know where to strike back. The multiplicity of charges, he said, made it impossible for the railroads to answer them without some investigation and time to prepare their answer. The complaint, he said, appeared to be principally against interstate rates, and it was not in the power of the roads, but only within the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission to grant the relief sought. Mr. Cunningham said if there were any unjust discriminations which were within the power of the railroads to remedy, they would be glad to take the matter up and do the best possible.

Mr. Wimbish in his argument for the freight bureau said there was no foundation for the idea that Atlanta wanted better rates than were granted to Savannah or other points, and that the city only desired to be put on an equitable basis. He called attention to intra-state rates in which there were discriminations against Atlanta, and asked that the commission grant the rates as asked in his petition. With regard to unjust discriminations in interstate rates he asked that the commission carry this matter before the interstate commerce commission. The railroad men seemed to think that any rate is a reasonable one, he said, so long as traffic moves under it. Railroad men, he said, forget that the railroads are the highways of the country, and there is an irrepressible tendency among them to raise rates. They act as if they owned the roads, he said. All Atlanta wanted, he said, was to be put on an equal basis with Birmingham, Nashville and other points which now enjoy unusual privileges in the matter of rates right to Atlanta's door.

There argument was concluded with brief remarks by A. Pope, of the Seaboard; T. N. Powell, of the Southern; General Freight Agent Knox, of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis.

STOCKS SEEK HEAVY DAMAGE

Say Peters Street Viaduct Will Cost Them $50,000.

The first of the expected claims for damages on account of the construction of the Peters street viaduct was filed in the office of City Clerk W. J. Campbell yesterday.

It is the claim of Frank M. and Thomas F. Stocks and is for $50,000. It was filed by their attorneys, Arnold & Arnold.

The claim will be read during the next session of council and will be referred to the committee on claims, of which Councilman Terrell is chairman, for action.

In their petition the Messrs. Stocks assert that they own a lease on the property occupied by them as a coal yard, corner Peters street and the railroad crossing and that the lease runs for twenty-six years from January 1, 1903. The property is described as fronting 209 feet on the Southern and Central railroads, 63½ feet on Peters street and 329 feet on Mangum street. It includes a building that has been occupied by the petitioners as an office, although they have obtained from renting portions of it $45 per month.

Their rents, they declare, have been greatly injured and will remain injured while the lease continues. They estimate that between $12,000 and $15,000 will be required to adjust the building to the new grade caused by the construction of the viaduct. When it is adjusted they will be forced to increase their office force, they declare, in order to keep one man in the office on the level with the viaduct and another on the street level. This increase in expense they estimate at $75 per month.

Because of the heavy grades on Mangum street the petitioners contend that the cost of delivering coal and wood has been increased 30 per cent to them.

In concluding they estimate their damage at $50,000 and ask for an award of that amount.

SOCIETY

Kings' Daughters Meet.

THERE were two sessions of the state convention of the King's Daughters yesterday, both holding in the Sunday school room of the First Methodist church. Mrs. Flewelyn Holt, of Macon, state secretary, presided, and with her on the platform were Mrs. Margaret Bottome, president of the international society; her secretary, Miss Libby, of New York, and Mrs. Burton, of Virginia.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with palms and cut flowers, and in purple flags, purple being the color of the organization, and each circle having a flag with appropriate inscriptions upon it.

One of the first actions of the convention was the election by the convention of Mrs. Bottome, Miss Libby and Mrs. Burton as active members, with the privilege of voting.

After the official reports from various circles, Mrs. Holt, state secretary, made a most interesting report. In part she said:

"Our beloved order is represented in eleven counties, with forty circles and 909 members. The fact that during the year there have been only two circles organized, one in Augusta and one in Brunswick, is proof that there is a crying need for a state organizer, and the executive board respectfully recommends that a woman of ability and zeal (with guaranteed expenses) be placed in the field. This as nothing else will make abiding what is now fitful and temporary. Should this session do nothing else but this, it will mark a red letter day in the history of our order in Georgia. This board also recommends that this convention have a record book and the minutes be kept in same, that they be preserved for future history, and that after each annual session minutes be put in printed form and sent to members in the state.

"The executive board recommends that Georgia be represented at the conference of the international order of the King's Daughters and Sons, which will be held in Memphis November 8.

"The Silver Cross has resumed publication, and this evangel of good news deserves and demands our hearty support, for it is the herald of our organization. Let us not only pray for the continued success of our magazine, but let us contribute liberally toward its support and so make its life possible."

Visit to Hospital.

Yesterday afternpon the visiting delegates to the convention and the Atlanta circle of King's Daughters visited the new hospital for incurables, where an informal reception was held, and where the ladies meeting socially discussed their mutual interests and the work of their organization.

The work of the Atlanta daughters was commended as inspirational, and they were heartily congratulated not only by the distinguished visitors from the north, but by the sisters of the state, these all having an interesting story of the work being done by their respective chapters.

Mrs. Bottome and Miss Libby were driven to the reception by Mrs. Charles Wilson, whose guests they are.

Last evening the third session of the convention was held in the First Methodist church, an excellent musical programme furnished by the choir of the Central Congregational church. Among the soloists being Mrs. Mamie Folsom Wynn.

The programme was opened by prayer and scriptural reading by Rev. H. S. Bradley and the address of the evening was made by Mrs. Margaret Bottome, international president.

Being the founder of the organization and its active president, her address was one instructive, inspirational and brilliant.

Her very presence and the benevolence of her face reflect the force and benevolence of her character and nature expressed in an activity of charity distinguishing her as one of the great women philanthropists of the time.

While discussing the work of the King's Daughters, she may be said to have illumined her address by the philosophy she taught—that philosophy that teaches the practical application of religion and charity, rather than the more conventional modes of expressing it.

"Love one another" was one of the keynotes of her discourse, and she urged that altruistic love that brought together people of all classes in a mutual effort to do one another good.

Mrs. Bottomes's presence at the state convention, as well as her able address of last evening, have brought renewed energy to the Atlanta circles of King's Daughters, who are doing a noble work in charity.

At the opening session of the convention this morning the election of officers, which took place yesterday, will be announced and the officers duly installed. The following is the programme for the day:

A NEW FOLDER ON GEORIA

Which Shows the State's Emigration Attractions.

Colonel E. Y. Clarke has just prepared for general distribution an attractive folder setting forth in an interesting manner many facts and figures showing the marvelous developments of Georgia. The folder is fully illustrated and deals with the agricultural and industrial development of the state. Colonel Clarke has given his personal attention to the work, which is being broadly distributed.

In a general way it is known that Georgia is prosperous and that progress is general, showing itself in all commercial and industrial departments. There is not, however, so much familiarity with details in facts and figures and sources of largest development.

The booklet before us furnishes this specific information, based on official authority and and individual experience and conveys it with clearness and conciseness. While gratifying to ourselves, this information is specially valuable in stimulating immigration.

The last cotton crop realized over $75,000,000, and under favorable conditions the crop of 1,000,000 bales can be readily doubled. Georgia is now the largest peach growing state in the American union, the number of trees running up to 10 000,000 and rapidly increasing. Agriculture embraces every field crop of importance, and the farming sections are specially prospering.

Georgia has also become a great manufacturing state, embracing a wide scope of product. At least $50,000,000 have been invested in cotton manufacture alone, the number of mills having increased to some 150.

The scarcity of labor produced by diversion to manufacturing industries and the rapidly enlarging demand for all Georgia products open up great opportunities for immigrants and the investment of capital.

No state of the union possesses such all round conditions for the making of happy homes, and life in Georgia has such attractions that many northern and western people of prominence and wealth spend a part of every year in the state.

Twenty-five thousand copies of this not a few building and owning homes. folder have ben issued for general circulation.

BOY IS HELD AT BARRACKS.

Gussie Holt Held There To Be Taught How To Behave.

While the afternoon papers were publishing yesterday that Gussie Holt, 14 years old, of 36 Carroll street, was missing from his home and that his mother, fearing foul play, was prostrated and in a feeble condition, the boy was in police barracks as a sleeper, having been sent there Wednesday afternoon by Patrolman Coker at the request of the boy's father. The mother of the boy did not know of her whereabouts and that he was in the barracks until he could be taught to behave himself.

The boy was discharged from the Fulton bag and cotton mills this week, and fearing he would be whipped by his father, decided to run away from home. Patrolman Coker caught the boy and sent him to police headquarters Wednesday afternoon. He is now being held as a sleeper, but will probably be given a lecture and turned over to his parents for correction.

ATLANTA GETS BIG CONVENTION

National Association of Manufacturers Will Meet Here.

Committees Sent by Atlanta to Pittsburg Performed Their Work Successfully and Secured Unanimous Vote for This City.

Atlanta has been unanimously selected by the National Association of Manufacturers as the place for the 1905 convention of that organization. Telegrams to the city from Pittsburg, Pa., yesterday morning contained this intelligence, which was received with enthusiasm in Atlanta.

The association of manufacturers is composed of about 1,000 of the brainiest business men of the country and their coming to Atlanta next year will doubtless be an occasion for splendid entertainments.

The 1905 convention was secured for Atlanta by the efforts that have been made by both citizens and organizations of this city to capture it.

The chamber of commerce appointed a committee of its best known members, headed by J. Wylie Pope, to present the invitation of that body, the general council appointed a committee headed by Councilman E. V. Carter to tender the invitation of the city, and both committees were charged to present to the convention the letters of Governor Terrell and Mayor Howell. The committees took with them John Temple Graves, editor of The Atlanta News, to present the invitations and to make the speech inviting the association to hold its 1905 convention in Atlanta.

In addition to these there was another powerful influence exerted for Atlanta. It was that of Editor Edmonds, of the Manufacturers' Record, who sent personal letters to all members of the association urging them to vote for Atlanta.

Made Eloquent Speech.

The speech of Mr. Graves before the convention yesterday morning is described as one of the best of his efforts. It was received with enthusiasm by the manufacturers and he was frequently interrupted by tumultous applause. Upon the conclusion of the speech of Mr. Graves the National Association of Manufacturers voted unanimously in favor of holding the 1905 convention in Atlanta, despite the fact that several other large cities had presented urgent invitations.

Following is the Associated Press account of the last day of the convention of the National Association of Manufacturers:

Pittsburg, Pa., May 19.—At a conference which began last night and lasted until early today between the members of the executive committee of the National Association of Manufacturers and members of the executive committee of the Citizen's Industrial Association, resolutions were passed which, adopted by the manufacturers' convention at its session today, will bring the two associations into closer amalgamation and result in both organizations hereafter working together in strikes and other labor troubles and in securing such legislation as they desire.

The manufacturers' association is composed of only producers of manufactured articles, while the Citizen's Industrial Association is made up of members who employ labor.

Chairman Carrell, of the committee on resolutions, reported that the resolution on a strike insurance would not be reported at this meeting, because its adoption would only be misjudged by the laboring classes at large. He said that the manufacturers did not want to invite antagonism.

The convention then adjourned to meet at Atlanta, Ga., next year.

President Maddox Delighted.

Robert F. Maddox, president of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, was very much gratified yesterday when he was informed that the association had selected Atlanta as its next meeting place. He said:

"I feel very much gratified at the two victories won by Atlanta today.

"I feel sure that the city will reap much benefit from the stop-over privileges on world's fair tickets either going to or coming from St. Louis, which at the request of the chamber of commerce, was granted Atlanta by the passenger agents on yesterday. This is sure to bring many people to Atlanta during the next six months and do much to allow those living in this section of the country to visit Atlanta and get better acquainted with our splendid city.

"The chamber of commerce has been working for the next convention of the National Association of Manufacturers for several months, and I am glad that, with the hearty cooperation of Mayor Howell and council, our excellent committee in Pittsburg was able to have Atlanta unanimously selected as the next meeting place. It is not generally known that this is the richest and most influential association in the United States. This convention which will be held here next year will be attended by probably one thousand of the brainiest and most successful manufacturers in this country. Their coming to Atlanta will surely result in their getting in closer touch with the commercial advantages of this section, and will probably be the cause of locating some of their plants or representatives in this city.

"Atlanta's future is indeed bright and we must all continue to pull together for her general welfare."

WANT ATLANTA BANK ENJOINED

Trust Company Asks Injunction Against Atlanta National Bank.

The International Trust Company, through its attorneys, Rosser & Brandon, filed a bill in the United States circuit court yesterday afternoon, asking for an injunction against the Atlanta national bank to prevent the officers and employees of this bank from turning over to the First national bank of Macon the sum of $4,806.01.

The petition states that the Maryland Casualty Company deposited with the plaintiff in this bill a check drawn by Aaron Haas & Sons for $4,806.01 in its favor May 12, 1904.

The plaintiff forwarded this check to the First National bank of Macon for collection. The First national again forwarded it to the Atlanta national bank May 16, the same day on which the First national bank of Macon closed its doors and went into the hands of the bank examiner.

This check reached the Atlanta national bank May 16 and this bank proceeded to give the Macon bank credit by an entry on its books for this amount and charged Aaron Haas & Sons with the amount.

The plaintiff sets forth that the First national bank of Macon had no title to the amount except for purposes of collection and had no right to the proceeds. When the Atlanta national bank paid this sum the First national had closed its doors and had been placed in the charge of the bank examiner.

The plaintiff contends that at the time the First national received the check it was insolvent and it was a fraudulent proceeding on the part of the bank to accept it.

The court is on this account asked to enjoin the Atlanta national bank from transferring the proceeds to the First national and to direct the Atlanta bank to hold this amount as trustee for the plaintiff.

Some time ago a bill of exceptions was filed against the master's report in the case of the Consolidated Dental Manufacturing Company against R. A. Holliday et al. and in the cross bill of R. A. Holiday et al against the Consolidated Dental Manufacturing Company. Judge Pardee yesterday overruled the bill of exceptions.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday in the United States district court by W. W. Stovall & Bro., the Atlanta Paper Company and the Oxbow Pants Company against A. G. Carroll & Son.

The petitioners allege that the defendant is bankrupt and acknowledged its insolvency by transferring a portion of its assets to one of its creditors, with a view to preferring this creditor. Judge Newman appointed J. P. Brooke receiver and fixed the bond of the receiver at $1,000.

ATTORNEY PAID GIRL'S FINE.

Pretty Emma Gunter Narrowly Escapes Term in the City Stockade.

Miss Emma Gunter, 18 years old, of 120 South Boulevard, had a narrow escape from a prison cell, a ride to the stockade and imprisonment there yesterday morning, and but for the timely interposition of Attorney S. C. Crane she would have been locked up for nonpayment of a fine of $1.75.

Miss Gunter was arrested at 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning at her home by Call Officers Lindsey and Hulsey. The case was made on complaint of neighbors, who said the young woman had threatened her own mother and had slapped her.

In police court the mother denied her daughter had struck her but said she was angry because she would not allow her to go with a certain class of young men. The mother said she had slapped the daughter.

The witnesses who caused the arrest said they saw the girl strike her mother and also heard her say she would cut her throat and "wipe out the entire house."

Miss Gunter admitted that she slapped her mother on the arm but said she was angry at the time and lost her temper. A fine of $1.75 was entered but as neither the mother nor daughter had any money with them the girl was being led to the detention room when the fine was advanced by Attorney Crane and she was released.

LATONIA DERBY WON BY ELWOOD

Victory Due to Jockey Prior's Work.

Took Prize from Ed Tierney by a Nose After Desperate Drive Through Stretch—Elwood Now Double Derby Winner.

Cincinnati, May 19.—Elwood is a double derby winner. Fresh from his victory at Louisville he won the Latonia derby at a mile and a half over a slow track and in a drizzling rain from a field of four in 2:42¾.

He nipped Ed Tierney a nose at the post after a desperate drive through the stretch. Lonsdale, which had made all the early pace, was beaten 15 lengths by Ed Tierney for the place money. The value to the winner was $5,730.

To Jockey Prior is due the credit of today's great victory. Mrs. C. E. Durnell, who owns Elwood, is lying ill in Chicago. C. E. Durnell, her husband and trainer, was not at the track. The horse was in charge of Mrs. Durnell's father. All the instructions that he gave the boy was, "Do the best you can with him." That Prior put forth his best efforts was demonstrated by his great ride through the stretch. Ed Tierney was leading with Elwood close behind. Prior pulled his whip and put the rawhide to the horse's flank which caused him to swerve in behind Ed Tierney.

Time and again Elwood faltered under the punishment, but his gameness told in the end. With one mighty effort Prior pulled the horse together about 10 yards from the wire and by vigorous hand riding landed the prize in the very last stride. The field was but two minutes at the post. Summary:

New Orleans, May 19.—(Special.)—Hardy pitched rings around big Ed Herr this afternoon and Atlanta won the first game of the series by a score of 3 to 2 as a result. The Pelicans could not touch Hardy at the proper moments, while Herr let down very noticebly in the sixth inning, and Powell's pets landed on him with a will, hammering out four hits that counted for two runs.

Hardy won his own game and is deserving of considerable credit. The Pelicans this season are no mean birds to beat by any means and a pitcher who shows them the way is working hard.

In the fifth inning Hardy singled, advanced on Crozier's sacrifice and Luskey's bounder to short and scored on Clark's single. In the sixth with Morse out on a pretty catch by Stewart, Demontreville hit for two bags and Mellor followed with a single that scored the speedy shortstop. Mellor scored on Koehler's single.

The Pelicans made their two runs in the last half of this same inning. Rohe landed safe on Demontreville's error and Turner forced him at second. Atz drove a two bagger to right field and Sullivan followed him with a single that tallied both Turner and Atz. That was the last time the Pelicans had the slightest chance to score.

McKay opened the game in right field, but was taken out and Luskey took his place.

GEORGIA TECH DROPS THE FIRST

Vanderbilt Won Through the Kindness of Pitcher Day.

Nashville, Tenn., May 19.—(Special.)—Costly errors by Butler, at second, one inning of wildness on the part of Pitcher Day and brilliant fielding by Vanderbilt gave the first game of the series with the Georgia Tech, here today, to the Commodores. Score, 3 to 1.

It was an exciting contest from first to last, and but for Butler's errors there is a strong probability that the score would have been different. It was in the second inning that Morris made first on Butler's fumble of an easy grounder. Cornelius drew a free pass, and the two were sacrificed by Raulston. Campbell hit an easy one, that ought to have cut the runner off at the plate, with a good chance for a double, but Butler fumbled again, and Morris scored. Butler then threw wild to the plate, and Cornelius came home.

In the third, Morris got four bad ones, stole second and came home on Cornelius' single. Tech scored only in the fourth. Day hit safe, and went to second and third, respectively, on Ison's and Richard's outs, scoring on Butler's single.

Woodward's batting was the feature of the game, he getting a single, a double and a triple out of four times up. Tech and Vanderbilt play again tomorrow.

GAMBLERS GET NO CLEMENCY

Prison Commission Say They Must Serve Sentences in Jail.

The prison commission yesterday denied the aplications for clemency of Gad D. Bryan and Charles Odell, of Savannah, convicted of keeping gaming houses, and each sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and to serve six months in jail.

When the governor approves this recommendation as it is expected he will, the defendants will have to pay the fines of $1,000 each in addition to serving six months in Chatham county jail, the latter being the part of the sentence which they particularly desired to avoid. In fact, their applications for clemency which were filed and argued long before the supreme court passed on their case, did not ask that they be relieved of the fines, but only of the jail sentences. This the commission has declined to recommend.

Yesterday Rev. John D. Jordan, pastor of the First Baptist church of Savannah, who stopped in the city on his way home from the Southern Baptist convention in Nashville, appeared before the commission and made a strong argument against the granting of any clemency to these men. Rev. Mr. Jordan stated that these men had been convicted time and again, and yet were persistent in their violation of the law against keeping gaming houses, almost flaunting the vice in the faces of the Savannah public.

The papers in the case were sent to Governor Terrell yesterday, and he will probably act on them at once. As soon as he does, Bryan and Odell, who are under bond, will be called on to begin their six months' periods of incarceration. The supreme court a few days ago refused to grant them a new trial.

Bryan and Odell have both been engaged in the gambling business in Savannah for years, the latter including policy lottery in the list of his games. Bryan also runs a restaurant and bar, where some months ago a serious shooting affray took place.

MUNROE WINS FROM CHAPMAN

Munroe Came Across the Tape First in Both Heats.

Atlanta lost a double event last night when Johnnie Chapman, paced by Elliott, an amateur, were decisively defeated by Bennie Munroe, paced by Hoffman.

This time at least Chapman had no chance to win. It was all off from the first lap and the crowd recognized the fact and refrained from the boisterous applause which has marked previous races.

To be perfectly fair, Chapman was handicapped in the race. In the first place he was paced by Elliott, who was pacing his first rider in a regular race. Elliott showed up well last night and with more experience and a little more head in critical moments will probably do far better in the future.

He was up against a hard proposition, however, when he opposed Hoffman last night. It was a meeting of the professional and the amateur, of the boy and the man. On the one hand was a rider who had taken part in many races and through experience learned to work as much with his head as with his feet. On the other hand was an untrained novice.

Chapman was still further handicapped by the fact that his motor went wrong in the first heat, giving first blood to Munroe, as the two riders had agreed that in case of accident in the first heat the race was not to be stopped.

In the second heat of 5 miles Elliott and Chapman tried hard to win. This time the two men were started even with each other and for some time the race was a pretty one.

Gradually Munroe began to gain and in the beginning of the third mile was pressing Chapman hard, doing his level best to lap him. Both riders did their best here and for some reason the lap was not gained. Chapman regained his lost distance and the two contestants were on even terms again.

This advantage was temporary. When the end was drawning near Munroe and Hoffman flashed to the front and gained yards and yards on Chapman, finally lapping him and dashing on still further in the lead. The race was soon over, with Munroe leading seven-eighths of a lap ahead. Time, 7:50. The time was poor.

McGahee won the amateur event, Wellborn coming second, Pierce third and Hudson fourth.

B. H. S. DEBATE WELL ATTENDED

Final Debate of Year Held Yesterday in Browning Hall.

Browning hall, in the Girls' High school, was crowded to its capacity yesterday morning for the regular May meeting of the Alciphronian Literary and Debating Society. An unusually elaborate programme was presented, as is the custom for these last public exercises of the term, and some of the brightest students in the school took part.

Particular interest on the part of the members of the school and their friends who were present centered in the debate which had for its live subject, the influence upon civilization of the Russo-Japanese war.

The debaters were Ashley Hill, leader, senior class; Henry McDowell, first grade; Willam F. Slaton, Jr., second grade; Evert C. Houston, second grade, for the affirmative.

On the negative were Harrison Jones, leader, senior class; Lewis Parker, first grade; Jacob Gordon, first grade; Clifford Steinhauer, senior class.

After a contest which was exciting and displayed some cleverness and repartee, as well as the well ordered results of current and historical research, the decision was rendered in favor of the negative.

Wurm's orchestra furnished music and there were three excellent declamations, as follows:

"The Cuban Refugee"—O. J. Dooly, anonymous, first grade.

"The New South" (H. W. Grady)—J. R. McCarty, second grade.

"Eulogy on America" (Charles Phillips)—George W. McCarty, Jr., senior class.

The special officers were Henry Beck, president; George Harrison, secretary; F. E. Adams, assitant secretary.

THEATERS.

The Casino.

The first half of the opening week at the Casino at Ponce de Leon has been most satisfactory to the management as well as to the theatergoers of the city. The entertainment has far surpassed the most sanguine expectations of every one and on all sides one hears expressions of approval from those who have attended the performance.

There is not an inferior act on the bill and it looks like a bunch of headliners so carefully has every one been selected. The Otto brothers, in their German specialty, are simply immense. The English dancing girls are also scoring one of the most emphatic hits we have ever had in Atlanta. Their work is uniformly good and their graceful figures and pretty faces add much to the enjoyment of this novelty turn.

The one-act farce, "The Magic Hat," gives the company excellent opportunities and every one of these is improved. It is one long laugh from the time the curtain goes up till it comes down on the denouement of the comical plot. Dainty musical numbers are introduced from time to time.

No better entertainment has been offered this season at the prices that are being charged and the tired and wornout are advised to spend an evening with the Dixie Troubadours at the Casino.

WALL STREET SOLD RIGHT UP TO CLOSE

Cotton Showed a Fair Recovery in Spite of That Pressure.

DUE TO LIGHT RECEIPTS

Interior Movement Reached 646 Bales, the Smallest Ever Before Witnessed So Early in the Season—Weather Generally Favorable.

New York, May 19.—The cotton market opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 1 point with the trade waiting developments. Cables were about steady, Liverpool showing a disposition to go no further than follow the local declines of yesterday and the trade at first seemed apprehensive that supporting orders would be in the market leading to the momentary hesitation. Almost at once, however, selling orders reached the ring and prices broke sharply. July, which had opened at 13.21, sold down to 13.02 with hardly a pause and the rest of the list showed almost equal weakness. As prices went down there was considerable demand. Shorts showed a disposition to cover and there was some buying on the reaction theory, sufficient to cause momentary reactions and considerable irregularity. In a general way the market continued to show weakness, however, and at the lowest sold at 13.00 for July, 11.05 for October and 11.00 for December. Following this there was something of a rally in the late trading on increased covering and bullish wires from New Orleans. A prominent Wall street operator continuing selling right up to the close, although the market showed a fair recovery in spite of that pressure and closed at a decline of 4@8 points on the old crop, while the new crop positions were unchanged to 5 points higher. The rally toward the close was helped by the continued light receipts. The interior movement reached only 646 bales for the day, and was said to be the smallest ever before witnessed so early in the season. Weather reports during the day were generally favorable, aside from continued low temperature in some sections. Sales of futures estimated at 500,000 bales.

The New Orleans Cotton Market.

New Orleans, May 19.—Spot cotton in good demand at full prices. Sales 4,100 bales, including 1,000 to arrive and 1,100 f. o. b. Quotations unchanged.

Futures opened barely steady and from 2 points higher to 9 points lower. Liverpool and New York were both weak. Bears promptly hammered in New York and this sent prices off with Liverpool showing a quick response. In the local market the opening brought out a great mass of selling orders that had evidently accumulated over night. Short sellers were in the majority, and the market was sent down solely under the weight of selling orders. For some time after the opening it was distinctly weak, and but for profit taking by shorts July undoubtedly have been sent down to 13c. The ring was noisy, especially when any short rally occurred. In the trading July first lost 23 points from the close of yesterday at 13.29, recovered to 13.41, declined to 10.83, recovered to 10.88, declined to 10.85 and finally recovered to 10.95. The market closed firm net 2 points down to 4 up.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, May 19.—The dry goods market is without change. The convention of dry goods jobbers is still in session, and this withdraws a number of buyers from the market. Only a slight continuance of export business is reported.

MARKET REVIEWS

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

COTTON—The movement of the market this forenoon has been suggestive. Liverpool came with a decline about on a parity with ours of yesterday and prices opened steady at those of the close. Immediately after a heavy selling began and prices rapidly ran down to 13c for July. New Orleans shared in the depression and selling here found a difficult market on which to execute stop orders and the acompanying sales which go with a declining market. A reaction was in order after the low prices were touched, and it came, all the weak interest apparently having been driven out. While the decline has been great, buying orders are few. The older positions are being gradually abandoned by traders in view of the chances of manipulation, and dealing in them is confined to the more daring of operators and to the closing of the earlier transactions. A feature was the large buying of October on the drop. During the afternoon the loss of the early day was recovered, but the lack of speculation was evident, the demand being largely that of earlier selers. Trading was mainly local. Telegrams from the south say that at the decline there is a better demand from the mills; that spot cotton is harder to buy and that there is more inquiry for goods. Toward the close a portion of the gain was lost and the trade is adapting itself to the lower prices, which are apparently more legitimate. This will be shown if spinners look more favorable upon cotton now. The spot market was quiet at unchanged prices.

COTTON—The small sales in Liverpool of spot cotton is discouraging to the bulls. Spinners takings there today amounted to only 5,000 bales at a decline of 4 points; middling 7.38. First prices for futures in that market were better than expected, showing declines of from 3 to 7 points, but weakened later on advices from this side, the close being 8 to 15 points down. The New York market opened steady at unchanged prices to a declineof 1 point, and immediately broke sharply under bear pressure and heavy liquidation. The bulls in the old crop months still have the strong statistical position in their favor, but this factor is offset by the slack demand for the raw material by spinners, and until this factor is eliminated there is nothing on which to base an advance of material proportions in these months. As to the new crop months, the only unfavorable feature is the cool weather, under the influence of which they show some reluctance in following the declines in the old crops. The close today was steady, with the old crop months 6 to 8 points lower, while the new crops are 5 points off to 1 point up. Port receipts today 3,719 bales, against 5,572 last year.

WHEAT—Shorts in May wheat were frightened into covering today. Receipts are breaking records for smallness and contracts stocks have dwindled to a point where they are called practically nothing. These influences carried May to $1 today on a scramble to cover by shorts. The deferred futures sympathized with May, July opened 1-4c to 3-8c higher, which was further increased ½c in the early trading. There was considerable selling on the better levels, though the market showed no signs of weakness. July showed at the close an advance of 7-8c to 1c at 88 3-4@88 7-8c. Primary receipts 112,800 bushels, against 224,500 last year. Shipments 200,000 bushels, against 385,000 last year. Receipts at Chicago today 2 cars, Minneapolis and Duluth 54, making a total of 56 cars, against 139 cars last year.

CORN—The May option was strong, with the later months ruling fractionally higher. July was unchanged to 1-8c higher at 48c at the opening. Receipts were small and the cash market was steady. At the close little change was shown, July finishing at 48 1-8@48 1-4c.

OATS—A disposition was shown among May and July shorts to cover. Commission houses bought in a scattering way and offerings were light. The market was firm. July opened 1-4 to 1-4c higher at 38 1-8c and closed 1-2c to 5-8c up at 38 5-8@38 3-4c.

PROVISIONS—The market for product was decidedly weak. Packers were reported as free sellers. At the close July product showed declines of from 10 to 15c.

COTTON—There was considerable irregularity and throughout the day much nervousness in the cotton market today. The opening was steady in tone with first prices unchanged to 1 point lower. The cables were a little better than looked for and the private advices from abroad were quite encouraging. However there was a lot of selling early in the day and under scattered liquidation the market broke smartly. The July option was especially the subject of pressure and the bulls on the near months seemed to be unable to stop the selling. The south sold a lot of cotton and New Orleans was a leader. Philadelphia houses were also heavy sellers, but these interests were said to be selling against purchases in the English market. The late Liverpool advices showed a response to the weakness on this side and New Orleans also developed pronounced weakness. The prices continued to show weakness, but on the lower levels, there was some buying and there was a suspicion that some of the larger shorts were taking profits on a moderate scale. The crop and weather news was conflicting, but the features in this connection attracted relatively little attention. The movement continued small and the prospects favored continued small receipts. The estimated receipts for the week were not changed and the indications pointed to bullish week-end statistics. Receipts today 3,719, against 5,572 last week.

WHEAT—There was a bullish tendency in wheat today caused by a combination of circumstances more or less of a sensational type. There was talk of a squeeze in the May delivery and from the action of that delivery there was figured to be some foundation for the fact. The statistical position continued to be alluded to in the most bullish terms, in that in some instances there was comparative scarcity which led to material fears on the part of cash interests. There was a good demand for actual wheat, and the inquiry came from all sections. Stocks in the northwest decreased heavily, and for the week thus far there is a decrease of nearly a million bushels. Receipts were very small and promise to continue so, only 3 cars being promised here for tomorrow. At the three northwestern points there were only 56 cars today, against 139 last year. The primary market movement reflected a great excess of shipments over receipts and clearances seemed to be somewhat larger. Exporters had more liberal orders. The crop situation continued a secondary consideration, although the advices in the main were better than looked for. The Price Current was quite bearish. The late market showed the effect of moderate selling on the better levels, but the bulk of wheat coming out was well taken.

CORN—Corn was firm, although trade was less active. The strength of wheat was a distinct influence and corn shorts were nervous. The weather map was quite favorable, but regarding the general corn situation there is a wide difference of opinion. The cash demand was fair. Offerings from the country was small. It is stated there was still plenty of time to plant a full acreage. The lake situation continues unsettled and causes nervousness. Export interests had fair orders, but clearances were painfully small. The primary market movement was bullish on talk of decreasing stocks.

OATS—The oats market followed the other cereals. Trade was small and narrow. Crop news was bearish.

PROVISIONS were slow but firm in tone. Commission houses sold lard, but packers gave little support. Cash trade slow. Shipment of product was small.

PRICE OF MAY WENT TO DOLLAR MARK

Due to Scramble by Shorts To Get Out of Market.

LATE MONTHS SYMPATHIZE

July Closed 7-8c Higher—Corn Unchanged to 1-8 to 1-4c Up. Oats 1-2 to 5-8c Higher. Provisions Were Lower.

Chicago, May 19.—A scramble by short sellers to get out of the market today sent the price of May wheat to the dollar mark, an advance of 3¼c. The closing price of May wheat was 99c. July closed 7-8@1c higher and September 1-2c higher. Corn is unchanged to 1-8@1-4c higher, oats 1-8c to 1-2@5-8c higher and provisions from 10 to 15c lower.

The rapid disappearance of cash wheat in local elevators and the near approach of the final delivery day served to start a general demand for May wheat. With the rush for that option the idea of holders of July and September stiffened accordingly. Starting with a gain of 1-4c to 1-4@3-8c at 87 5-8c, July advanced to 89 1-2c. A disposition on the part of the pit traders to play for a break after the early advance carried July back to 87 3-4c and September to 81 5-8c. The market closed net 1-4c to 1-4@3-8c higher for July at 88 3-4@88 7-8c and 3-8@1-2c higher for September at 82c. Outside of better crop outlook and a decline in some of the foreign markets the bulk of the news was bullish. A decrease of 3,000,000 bushels in the visible supply was predicted and primary receipts were light, being only 112,885 bushels against 224,515 a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported 56 cars against 70 last week and 139 a year ago.

Corn shorts were disposed to cover, although business was not on a large scale. The decided firmness in wheat kept buying in favor, and the market ruled steady. The weather helped the tone, frequent rains having delayed planting operations. Final trades showed a gain of 1-8@1-4c in July at 48 1-8@48 1-4c after ranging between 47 5-8@48 1-2c. September touched 47 3-4c and closed unchanged at 47 3-8c. Receipts 46 cars.

Oats were strong, and July and September were helped by May, which was very much in demand by nervous shorts, who looked fearfully upon the decreasing contract stocks and the small movement. July closed 1-2@5-8c higher at 38 5-8@38 3-4c, having touched 38 7-8c. September was 1-8c higher at 30 3-4c. Receipts 188 cars.

The big speculative short lines in provisions which have been the support of values for weeks were not in evidence today and prices suffered. There was liberal selling, but trade on the whole was light with only little outside interest. July and September pork were down 20@22½c at $11.15@11.35, with July lard off 12½@15c at $6.35, September showing but a shade less loss at $6.52½; July ribs closed 10c lower at $6.40@6.42½ and September 12½c lower at $6.57½.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

COTTON—Although cables from Liverpool were satisfactory as a whole, and despite the fact that prices on the call here showed little change from last night, it was very evident from the mood of the traders that a bearish sentiment still prevailed in local circles. An attack on July after the call sent it off to 13 cents. Some big stop-loss orders were caught on the break and the New Orleans market showed decided heaviness. Cotton bought by commission houses late yesterday on the idea that a rally was due after the severe downward movement came on the market in blocks, adding to the weakness. With weather conditions through the south improving, new crop positions tumbled more rapidly than has been their wont of late. The decline was stayed, however, by efforts of shorts to get profits, July recovering .. points from the low. The new crop months became relatively steadier on demand from commission houses and certain Wall street interests. One room trader had big orders to buy October and December and his buying did much to hold the market steady. In the afternoon the market showed some improvement on further covering by shorts. Spots were quiet and unchanged at 13.40. Estimate for New Orleans tomorrow 900 to 1,400, against 2,810 last year. Galveston 600 to 900, against 1,890 last year.

Cothran & Co.

COTTON—Another break today on New Orleans selling. No change in the market, simply liquidation. New Orleans appears to have grown tired of the strain and thrown cotton overboard. It would have been better for the market to have the New Orleans stock distributed, rather than concentrated. But the trade there has its own way of doing things. The absence of a good demand for cotton has turned the situation into such dullness that when New Orleans tried to hedge the market here and in New Orleans gave way. As long as the crop news is better we look for no change. There will be nothing to buy on as long as spot cotton is heavy and crop news good. It may be the June condition will not be up to the standard. But there will be nothing to buy on for a time without actual damage. We would like to see October get below 11c, and then, on any bad news, there will be a chance to buy cotton for money. As it is, we do not care to be short. Many are selling the new crop, and this is likely to lead to an unwieldy short interest should the bad news come. Too much depends on the next crop. There will be a boll weevil scare later on. This may be a bear year, but it is too early to take a stand either way. It is a scalping market with a downward tendency.

WHEAT—There was a strong opening, the light receipts here and elsewhere, with a fear of a squeeze this month due to the light contract stocks frightening shorts, not only in May but in old July, the former month being bid up to par with deferred futures following. A report was circulated that contract stocks would .. all cleaned out by the first of the week, while additional strength was communicated to the market by the prospect of smaller Argentine shipments that will be reflected in decreasing world's shipments. Realizing was free on advances. Minneapolis mills increased their production 114,000 barrels the past week, but we did not hear of any flour sales or cash wheat business either here or at the seaboard. Valentine was a seller of old July, and prices worked off some at the close. Outside orders were not plentiful, but with any pronounced reaction we would favor purchases on dips.

CORN—Crop advices were favorable, but the market showed strength in sympathy with wheat and the high prices paid at the outside markets and by Iowa feeders. There was a fair cash demand at ½c advance. Local operators sold September, and are disposed to fight advances.

OATS were very steady. May advancing to 43c on talk of 889,000 contract here, and there was good buying of July and September. With further advances we would favor acceptance of profits.

PROVISIONS met with selling from the start, hog receipts being in excess of last year, the feature being selling of ribs by brokers supposed to represent Armour, while Cudahy sold lard. Cash trade was du.. a larger hog movement is looked for and there are reports of yellow fever at two points in old Mexico. The close was heavy.

STOCKS—The market was subjected to a raid in early trading today, and then relapsed into innocuous desuetude. Trading was carried on in a desultory way, with scalping by floor operators, who snatched eights as if they were points. The market did not show much pressure during the latter half of the session, but there was no bullish aggression, and some of the street operators are becoming skeptical of the existence of a large short interest. We believe that on weak spots the rails heretofore indicated should be bought for a small turn. This is a traders' market and scalps would be welcome to all. Admiral Togo reports that the Japanese cruiser Kasuga rammed and sank the cruiser Yoshino in a dense fog off Port Arthur. Only ninety of her crew were saved. On the same day the battle ship Hatsuse struck a Rusisan mine and sank. Three hundrew of the crew were saved by torpedo boats.

GEORGIA, PIKE COUNTY.

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain deed of trust executed on May 1st, 1901, by The Barnesville Manufacturing Company, a corporation, to the Guardian Trust and Deposit Company of Baltimore city, a corporation, as trustee for the purposes therein set forth, and duly recorded in the Office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pike County, Georgia, in Book Y, Folios 566 to 581, inclusive, reference to which record is hereby made, the Union Savings Bank and Trust Company, a corporation, having been by appropriate action and conveyance under the terms of said trust deed appointed successor to said Guardian Trust and Deposit Company of Baltimore City, in the trust by said deed created, as appears in Book Z, pages 210 and 211 of the same records, to which reference is hereby also made, and as such successor in said trust exercising the powers thereby vested in it, for the purpose of satisfying the principal and accrued interest due upon the bonds of the said The Barnesville Manufacturing Company, issued under the provisions of said deed of trust (the payment of which is therein secured by a first lien on the property below described), to-wit, seventy-five bonds each for the principal sum of One Thousand Dollars, and numbered from one to seventy-five inclusive, together with all interest accrued thereon to the date of sale, and also all the costs and expenses of this proceeding, including counsel fees, the Trustee's compensation and expenses incurred by it in connection with this trust, the said seventy-five bonds being the principal debt, dated May 1st, 1901, and due respectively as follows:

15 thereof on the first day of May, 1906;
30 thereof on the first day of May, 1911;
30 thereof on the first day of May, 1916;

all bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually upon the first days of January and July of each year; the said The Barnesville Manufacturing Company having made default in the payment of interest on its entire issue of bonds on the first day of January, 1903, and said default having continued for more than one month thereafter, and no interest having been paid since that date. And, thereupon, the said Union Savings Bank and Trust Company, as Trustee, at the request of the holders of a majority in amount of said bonds having on September 30th, 1903, declared the principal of said bonds to be due and the principal of said bonds having thereupon, under the terms of said trust deed become immediately due and payable, and formal notice having been given by the said Trustee to the said The Barnesville Manufacturing Company that the principal of said bonds had been declared to be due, and had thereupon become immediately due and payable; and demand for the payment of said interest so in default having been thereafter duly made at the principal office of said The Barnesville Manufacturing Company, and such default having continued for one month after said demand, and the right of said Trustee to enforce this lien for the entire sum of principal, interest due thereon, costs and expenses having thereupon accrued; and the said The Barnesville Manufacturing Company, after such notice and demand having failed to pay the principal or interest of said bonds after the same had so become due and been demanded as aforesaid, and still failing to pay the same up to this date;

Now, therefore, the said Union Savings Bank and Trust Company as Trustee aforesaid, will, on the first Tuesday in June, 1904, sell as an entirety, at public outcry at the Jackson street entrance of the City Hall, in the town of Barnesville, Pike County, Georgia, during the legal hours of sale, to the highest bidder, for cash, or for said bonds, the whole of said premises, estates, rights, privileges and property by said deed of trust granted and conveyed or intended to be conveyed, with their appurtenances, and all benefit and equity of redemption, and all the right, title and interest of said The Barnesville Manufacturing Company of, in and to the following property, to-wit:

And also together with said several tracts of land and as appurtenant thereto the entire manufacturing plant of The Barnesville Manufacturing Company aforesaid which is located thereon, including all houses, outhouses, buildings, fences and improvements of every character which may be thereon, and all mills, engines, boilers, machinery, fixtures, furniture and other equipment; tools and vehicles now belonging to said mill or appurtenant thereto; and also all additional machinery and appliances that have from time to time been placed in said mill either for original use or to replace such as from time to time have become worn and not suited to the purposes of the said plant, excepting certain winding machines the property of the Universal Winding Company; and also all such goods, supplies and material as from time to time may have been purchased in place of goods, material and supplies previously sold; and as well all other property, both real and personal of the said The Barnesville Manufacturing Company appurtenant to or in any manner connected with its said manufacturing plant.

STOCKS INERT AND ALMOST LIFELESS

The Market Became Soft Whenever Any Activity Developed.

WAS DULL ON A DECLINE

Net Changes Were Insignificant at the Close, Due to a Late Rally in United States Steel Preferred—Bonds Dull and Heavy.

New York, May 19.—The stock market continued inert and almost lifeless today. Whenever any activity developed the tone of the market became soft, showing the predominance of selling over buying orders in the very narrow market. When prices ceased their slow downward tendency the market fell into profound dullness and neglect, thus reflecting the unwillingness of any buyers to take stocks on any upward scale of prices. The resumption of selling of United States Steel preferred on the continuing effect of pessimistic reports from the iron trade was the first drag upon the market. But the heavy tone spread to other quarters. A definite statement by the negotiator of the New York subscription to the Japanese loan, that the whole of the $25,000,000 subscription is to be remitted to London, helped to explain the force of the demand for gold, but did not define its limits. The weather map was pronounced ideal for the crops, but the contradictory strength in in the wheat market neutralized the effect of this. The severe reduction in New York Central's net earnings for the quarter emphasized the effort of unfavorable returns by other systems. Notice late in the day of an offer for subscription next week to a $35,000,000 Cuban bond issue is another factor promising to prolong the demand for gold for export. But this did not prevent prices from retracing their previous course in sympathy with a rally in United States Steel preferred, leaving the day's net changes again wholly insignificant.

Bonds were dull and rather heavy with some slight recoveries. Total sales par value $1,265,000.
